

Police Dept. awarded "Accreditation" Status

WILMINGTON - On September 29, 2011, the Wilmington Police Department became the thirty-ninth law enforcement agency in the state to receive state accreditation from the Massachusetts Police Accreditation Commission.

Accreditation is a self-initiated evaluation process by which police departments strive to meet and maintain standards that have been established for the profession, by the profession. These carefully selected standards reflect critical areas of police management, operations, and technical support activities. They cover areas such as policy development, emergency response planning, training, communications, property and evidence handling, use of force, vehicular pursuit, prisoner transportation and holding facilities. The program not only sets standards for the law enforcement profession, but also for the delivery of police services to citizens of the commonwealth.

"Achieving Accreditation from the Massachusetts Police Accreditation Commission is a very significant accomplishment and a recognition highly regarded by the law enforcement community," said Donna Taylor Mooers, the Commission's Executive Director.

Under the leadership of Chief Michael Begonis, the Wilmington Police Department was assessed in May by a team of Commission-appointed assessors. The Assessment Team found the Department to be in compliance with all applicable standards for

Waters finds success as author Ram's Head open for business

Wilmington native brings his hometown into his work

WILMINGTON - Author Dick C. Waters pulls from many sources to write his serial killer mysteries. Among them is his background as a Wilmington resident.

His recently published novel, Serial Separation, is set in the Boston area, and his main character, Scott Tucker, is a Harvard student. In fact, if you read Serial Separation, you'll find that Waters describes a criminal investigation office at 55 Brattle Street, Harvard Square. The office he is describing is actually the building he worked at as a young man. Then it was an architectural center, and today it is an apartment building.

Now living in Arizona, Waters recently came back to Massachusetts for the

Wilmington High School Class of 1961

In the 50s and 60s, he attended grades seven through twelve at the very building on Church Street that is the current school.

Mentioning the town proposal for a new school, he reports, "After seeing it and seeing the schools out in Arizona, I can tell it's very dated." Also with all the additions over the years he feels, "It's almost like a maze. I don't see how the students get from one place to another on time."

Looking back at his Wilmington school experience, he talks fondly of his favorite teacher, Mr. Frank Kelly, who taught math and coached track when Waters was in school. Beyond scholastic matters, Kelly taught him values and was an important influence in Waters' life. Waters chuckles as he also explains, "Thank God I took typing in school." With the advent of computers and his new found career as an author, it is a critical skill that allows him to write quickly in a smooth, one-step process. Typing is now a part of everyday life, but that wasn't true in the 1960s.

His new career also involves

BILLERICA - The Ram's Head Dining Room is once again open for business.

According to Dining Room Supervisor Brian Considine, Shawsheen Valley Technical High School's student-operated restaurant is now taking reservations for lunch Tuesday through Friday every week throughout the school year.

As always, there are two seatings offered to patrons, one at 11:30 a.m. and the other at 12:15 p.m.

Reservations are strongly encouraged and can be made between 8:30 a.m. to 10:30 a.m. by calling 978-667-2111 (x668).

If leaving a message, the Ram's Head asks that you include your name, phone number, the day and time that you are calling and the number of people in your party. A member of the Ram's Head team will call back to confirm your reservation.

Reservations can be made for the same day or in advance.

Harley-Davidson giveaway

Punch in the right code and ride it home

WILMINGTON - The Wilmington Rotary Club will be looking to give away a 2012 Harley-Davidson 'Fat Boy' on Friday, November 18.

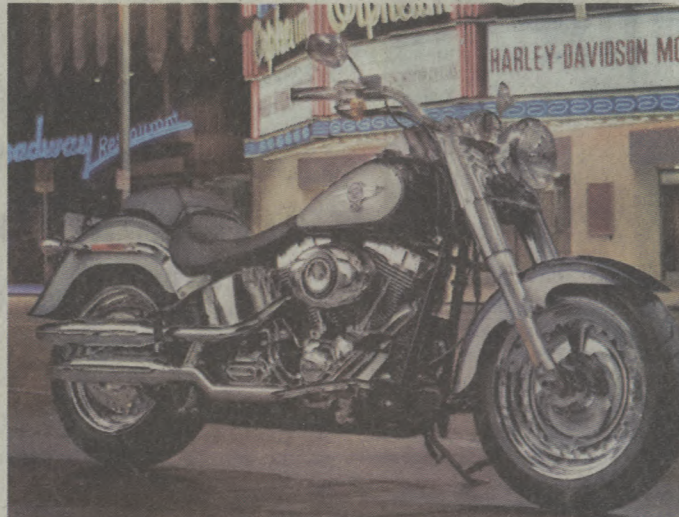

The brand new bike will be delivered by noon on November 18 to the Wilmington Knights of Columbus Hall, located behind St. Thomas' Church at 126 Middlesex Avenue in Wilmington.

"We want to thank Kelly's House of Harley-Davidson, located in Billerica, for supplying us with the motorcycle," said Wilmington Rotary Club President Stephen Bjork, "but we don't want them taking it back at the end of the night - we want someone to ride it away."

Anyone interested in being the proud owner of this iconic machine are encouraged to come by the Knights of Columbus Hall, beginning at noon and continuing - until someone wins - right up to the Rotary Club's Annual Auction, which takes place that night in the K of C Hall. Step up and punch in a four-digit code on the keypad. If you pick the correct code, the box will unlock and the Harley's ignition key will be all yours.

So much in just one year

iPods for wounded veterans

WILMINGTON - What almost a year can accomplish. Many times we look back after a year and say, "Wow, that went by fast and nothing has really changed." Well, that is not what Paul Cardello, Chairman of iPods for Wounded Veterans, and John Parker, Commander of Solomon VFW Post 8819, are saying.

iPods for Wounded Veterans was started on October 7, 2010, and a tremendous amount has happened in the last year. A 501(c)3 tax designation - which takes a year to establish - is one of many things this dynamite team focused on in helping our wounded veterans.

The Solomon VFW Post 8819 of Billerica has raised over $11,000, had five trips to Washington to hand deliver (a motto that will not be compromised) iPods to wounded veterans at the Bethesda Naval Medical Center and Walter Reed Military Hospitals, and has established a 'donate your vehicle' program.

The stories of our young men and women severely wounded by IEDs, battles, and more, are heartwrenching. These young men and women have made momentous sacrifice to protect this fine country from acts of ter-

The odyssey of Harry Johnson

By LARZ F. NEILSON

WILMINGTON - Possibly it all originated in the minds of Dick Duggan and Anita Backman, but then, more than those two persons were needed to think up all the nuances of the trip.

These are the two persons who first thought up the idea of the Wilmington Community Fund Walkathon. And possibly, to tell the truth, Anita was the hardest thinker. Dick was the money man, the treasurer of the Community Fund.

The traditional means of fundraising for the Community Fund had been door-to-door solicitation. The Community Fund provides support for local organizations, plus emergency aid for families facing tough situations or disasters. The Community Fund was started in 1945 by Wavie Drew, a Gold Star Mother who served on the Board of Selectmen for many years.

In 1973, the Community Fund held its first Walkathon, starting a tradition that lasted for about 30 years. The Walkathon of 1973 drew some 635 walkers, most of them young, some not. And there was one rider.

One of the many highlights was the odyssey of Harry Johnson. Harry, former Little League manager, athlete and bon vivant, and a real heavy-weight among those who regard athletic prowess as a necessary part of life, made the tiring odyssey of 12 miles around Wilmington.

It was quite tiring to Harry, but at the end of the journey, he declared that, with ten minutes rest, he was prepared to do it all over again.

Harry was given a ride around town in a racing gig, a sulky. There were special cushions to provide for Harry's comfort. There was a place for him to keep his cigars. Provisions were made for cool drinks for Harry, during that 12-mile journey.

There was a sunshade, to keep that hot wicked sun from heating poor Harry's brow. He wore a straw hat, too, for the same purpose, a straw hat with a broad red riband.

And, in case it got chilly during the ride, Harry wore a bright red vest under his sportcoat. Nothing was too good for one of Wilmington's premier sportsmen, who was making the arduous sacrifice for the good of the town.

It is noteworthy that for Harry's long ride, there was no horse.

The sulky was drawn by six women. One of them was Mrs. Harry (Nicki) Johnson, and another was his daughter Kathi. There was also Anita Backman, Barbara Larson (Wiberg), Carol Wiberg and Hazel Backman.

One of Wilmington's more or less wealthy capitalists put up a donation of $250, if these ladies succeed in completing the distance.

The trip took about four hours.

The ladies found that it was necessary to allow Harry to descend from the gig, every now and then, to rest himself. And, of course, to them, this was a command.

But they came in on a run, finishing in grand style. For the last hundred feet, they were not merely patient, willing plodding horses but rather some of the cavalry of Confederate General J.E.B. Stuart, riding around the Union Army.

Those girls had what it takes. And while Harry demanded a ten-minute rest before he would again start such a journey, they were ready, right there and then, to start again - providing that some other donor put up another $250 for the Wilmington Community Fund.

There was a party Sunday night, for those in the story of the Odyssey of Harry Johnson. All the ladies were there, but not poor Harry.

He had gone to bed. He was too tired.

Harry, of course, was not the only participant. The Walkathon was one of the largest athletic events ever to take place in Wilmington. Over 600 persons took part in the 12-mile hike.

An unofficial account says that 635 persons checked through the station that had been established at the North Intermediate School, the next to the last station on the hike. The last station, of course, was on the Common. Only the first 50 were numbered.

Fastest was Stephen Grant, a freshman member of the high school track team. He did the 12-mile loop in an hour and 40 min.

Some outstanding performances: Hazel Backman, the first of three generations to make the trip in that family, and was significantly ahead of her son and granddaughter, and was the oldest person to make the trip. Hazel is approaching the sixth decade.

Four of the selectmen showed up, Dan Gillis, Mike Caira, George Boylen, and Jim Banda.

State Sen. Ron MacKenzie of Burlington was a surprise marcher. He had just flown in from Seattle, Washington, arriving just three minutes before the start. He walked with Carl Backman and Mike Caira.

Dave and Pat Gagnon served breakfast to all the 20 teachers who marched. Most of them finished, walking with their students. Pat was the head of the Social Studies Dept. in the public schools.

Supt. of Schools Walter Pierce walked the distance with his daughter, Judy, 9.

The Walkathon tradition eventually died out, probably due to competition from other events. The Wilmington Community Fund, though, is still going strong.

Waters finds success as author

Wilmington current resident, Terri Johnston. Johnston serves as one of the main editors for his work. "Her input has been very helpful to me and really important," he says.

Waters has two more books in the work. These novels are part of a trilogy using the same characters as Serial Separation. One is complete and being submitted for publications while the other is still being written.

Having no formal training or classroom experience, Waters is a self taught author. He actually wrote his first novel many years ago.

Through feedback he learned that there is a specific style that works best for mystery writing. He took it upon himself to go out and learn about it. "I read books about the writing style for mysteries," he explains. Then he rewrote material and wrote new material using the knowledge he gained. This and his varied background of experiences and occupations in and around Wilmington have proven to be his formula for success.

It's Your Money

by Joyce Brisbois

WHERE IS YOUR EMERGENCY FUND?

One thing you can anticipate: unanticipated expenses will turn up. That's why everyone - married, single, at any stage of life - ought to have an emergency fund to cover them. The fund should be able to cover three to six month's worth of living expenses.

This is not investment money. This is grab-it-fast-in-an-emergency cash. Where do you keep it? There are some safe choices.

A regular bank savings account is safe and liquid, assuming you stay within the FDIC limit of $250,000 per depositor. Yes, current yields are very low. One alternative is a bank certificate of deposit, also FDIC-insured, which pays a little more, though you stand to lose money on penalties if you must withdraw early. Best bet for emergency funds: CDs with terms of six months or a year.

Almost as safe, just as liquid, are money market funds run by reputable financial institutions. Most keep their $1-a-share value. They generally pay a little more.

Every financial plan should include an emergency fund. Talk to us about it at

As always, admission is free and there will be a complimentary buffet and a cash bar. Who will be this year's 'guest auctioneers'? Come on by and find out.

"People love the auction," said Bjork. "Every year, people walk away with some fantastic deals. And there are often friendly bidding wars over some of the more unique items. All-in-all, it's just a great night out."

Proceeds from the Harley giveaway and the auction will go toward scholarships to Wilmington students, improvements Rotary Park, Rotary charities, donations to charitable organizations, and also the Wilmington Public School district, which has received SMARTBoards from the Rotary Club over the past several years.

at Shawsheen Tech, said he is anxious to see many familiar faces enjoying the delicious and affordable meals created by the students at the school. Generally, lunches (which include a salad and dessert) cost less than $8.

"I waited on some of these same people when I was a student," Considine said. "[The regulars] really have a genuine interest in the school. It is always great to see them come back."

Superintendent/Director Charles Lyons is quick to point out the importance of the Ram's Head to both the communities and the student body at the school.

Students not only prepare the meals at the Ram's Head, but also work as host and hostesses, waiters and waitresses, bus tables and perform all cash register transactions.

The Ram's Head is already excited about its annual Thanksgiving feast, which is planned for four days in November just before the holiday. On November 15, 16, 17 and 22, there will be 11:30 a.m. seatings that will offer a Thanksgiving meal that includes turkey, stuffing, cranberry and plenty of desserts. All entrées are served with apple cider, peas with pearl onions, butternut squash, glazed sweet potato, mashed potato, a selection from the pastry tray, and a choice of coffee or tea.

The Thanksgiving feast is less than $8.

"It is an enormous draw," said Considine.

Those who visit the Ram's Head this year will get the opportunity to try what is becoming a rather famous salad dressing.

At last year's Skills USA competition, Shawsheen Tech students Christen Aliperta, Shannon Lavagna and Grace

Diners at the Ram's Head Restaurant at Shawsheen Tech are consistently amazed by the quality of food - and by the prices.

Brogan, now seniors, and Josh Whelton, a 2011 graduate, finished third nationally in a team building exercise for entrepreneurship.

The group put together a business plan to market the Ram's Head's house salad dressing, a tasty cranberry vinaigrette creation.

Accreditation.

"Going through the process initially requires intense self-scrutiny, and ultimately provides a quality assurance review of the agency," said Mooers. In order to attain the Accreditation Award the department had to display that they were in compliance with the 382 required standards. Lt. Brian Pupa served as the Department's Accreditation Manager throughout the process.

The Commission offers two program awards: Certification and Accreditation, with Accreditation being the higher of the two. Accreditation has been granted for a period of three years. Participation in the program is strictly voluntary.

Grateful to a very caring community

Dear Editor:
The Wilmington Police Association and their spouses would like to extend our heartfelt thanks to the community, for the kindness and support provided to the Association with its recent fundraiser held for Officer Shawn Lee and Detective Thomas Miller. The event was extremely successful and it was due in part to the kindness and generosity exhibited by so many. The Association wishes to thank all of the people who attended and those who so generously donated.

The Association wishes to acknowledge the following:

Cleaning up in Wilmington

Dear Editor,
The Wilmington Conservation Commission extends a heart-felt thank-you to all the hard workers who showed up for the town's sixth annual Clean Up Day. The light drizzle at the start did not deter the volunteers who assembled at the DPW Yard on Saturday, October 1, 2011. They were greeted by the organizers from the Planning and Conservation Department, Michael Vivaldi and Winifred McGowan, who handed out gloves and trash bags supplied by the DPW. Volunteers were then sent to Silver Lake and various town parcels that were earmarked for clean-up.

What has been gratifying to see over the six years that the clean up has been held is that less man-made debris is being dumped on most the town lands, and the back-log of old debris is gradually being removed. That said, an impressive pile of trash, old tires, and miscellaneous debris was collected this year. Unfortunately, some trouble spots are found every year, so residents are encouraged to go out periodically with a bag to fill with trash. No need to wait for the annual Clean Up Day to help keep Wilmington looking good!

The Wilmington Planning and Conservation Department would like to let those who participated know that their efforts have a direct impact on what people see as they pass through our town. Without these types of civic activities, Wilmington would not be able to keep its pristine beauty for coming generations. Thanks for a job well done!

Winifred McGowan

Acts of Kindness

by Jomarie O'Mahoney

Trick or Treat? The most thrilling question of October! And, as promised last month, there are ways to trick your lives into acts of kindness with minimal time or money and that will be a real treat for you and your family (too candy corn-y?!).

As the leaves continue to fall, consider having a leaf raking party! Organize children in your family, friends and/or neighborhood to come with gloves, rakes and leaf bags and clean up a neighbor or friend's yard who may need some extra help. Make sure to incorporate some time to jump in the leaf piles!

Take a trip to the Wilmington Library and introduce yourself and welcome the new children's librarian. While you are there, grab a book or two and have a story time with your children one night by flashlight (the spookier or sillier, the better!).

Because kindness begins at home, have a date night with your children and/or significant other to lie outside and observe the amazing Autumn night skies (bonus points for locating Orion, my favorite constellation!) Have your children then share the experience by letter or phone with an elderly relative or friend who may not live in the same area or may forget what those little moments feel like!

There are many Fairs and community yard sales going on around town this month so check your neighborhood school's website (www.Wilmington.k12.ma.us) to see when theirs is and if there are any donations you can make. You can also consider sponsoring a neighborhood child in the Walk for WEF (Wilmington Educational Foundation, www.wilmingtoneducationalfoundation.org) that is being held at all schools pre-k through 8th grade on Halloween to raise money for their schools and promote health and wellness.

And then there is Halloween - the dentist's favorite holiday! Consider donating some of your children's candy to the senior center, local nursing homes, or to Local Heroes to ship overseas to our local troops. You may also want to consider handing out items other than sugary treats (maybe a note saying that you have made a monetary donation to the food pantry or a children's charity in lieu of spending money on more candy!) I know that may not be the most popular decision, but it certainly is an act of kindness on many fronts!

As always, please share with me your experiences from this month and ideas you have on acts of kindness. I was so happy to receive emails from September and to see that our town is very much full of angels!! You can email me at Jomarie0525@yahoo.com.

Have a wonderful and safe October!

Zero Waste Day success

Dear Editor,

Thanks to the coordination efforts of the Tewksbury Recycling Committee and the Tewksbury Congregational Church, our 3rd Annual Zero Waste Day was our best one yet. Participation was up 30% this year, with 518 cars participating in drive thru donating and recycling. Reports from some of our participating charities indicate that 75 bikes were donated, nearly 150 tires were recycled, and over 3000 books were passed along to eager readers. We are delighted to report that each of the six organizations accepting clothing and household goods entirely filled their box trucks and, in the case of the Wish Project of Lowell, completely filled a tractor trailer with furniture, linens, appliances, and clothing. The charities accepting animal supplies and building supplies were very pleased with their donations as well. Wondering about electronics recycling? 12,000 lbs! And our sincere thanks are extended to 1-800-Got-Junk's Woburn location for providing recycling or disposal of the few items that simply could not be passed along for further use.

Community support was stronger than ever this year and we are incredibly grateful to our friends at Pizza Mia, Dunkin Donuts, and Donna's Donuts for keeping the charity representatives and volunteers nourished during their busy day. The staff at the Marriott Residence Inn not only served as our lawn "Sign Squad" but they also volunteered with bike prep at the Bikes Not Bombs station and presented the organization with a check for $500 to further their mission. We hope to see more partnerships like that one next year. Thanks to Melissa Lane, Carolyn Hale, Maggie Butler, Steve Dunlevy, Reid Graphics, Stoneham Savings Bank, and Staples for graphic design and printing of our posters, handouts, and signage. And this event would not have been possible without the support of Superintendent John O'Connor and the School Committee for allowing the use of the Wynn Middle School as our venue. We thank the Town of Tewksbury, specifically Brian Gilbert, for use of safety cones for the event and the use of the town's electronic signs to promote ZWD.

Although the volunteers and charities formed the backbone of the event, it was the donors who were ultimately responsible for its success. The participating non-profits mentioned over and over again how impressed they were with the quality of donations. Leslie Levenson, the Executive Director of Community

Giving Tree writes: "It has been less than a week since we spent the day with you and your wonderful volunteers at Zero Waste Day. I'm writing to tell you that nearly everything we collected (a 16 foot truck full) has been taken to nearby homes with young children. We had over 40 different social service workers come to our facility this week to select items for the families they help."

It is hard to imagine how many households Tewksbury has touched as a result of Zero Waste Day, but it surely measures in the thousands. This event provides our residents with an opportunity to experience community giving and recycling, places much needed items in the hands of families in crisis, saves taxpayer dollars on tipping fees, and benefits the environment by keeping functional items out of landfills. We were thrilled with the outcome of Zero Waste Day, 2011 and look forward to serving Tewksbury again next year.

Kudos to Town workers

Dear Mr. Caira,

As you well know a lot of people in Wilmington take issues with how a lot of our Town Employees do their jobs.

The residents of Christine Drive had a problem with our sewer backing up the week of Sept 25-29. We were not aware of this until a company came to snake out the line to my house. When he saw what was going on he checked everything including the sewer in the street. The sewer was completely full.

The company called the Water Department at about 3:15 on Thursday, September 29th; they arrived here within 15 minutes of getting the call. The sewer company was amazed at how quick the Water Department came to assess the problem and start to get the problem rectified. Most people did not know of the problem until I told them about it.

I would just like to say 'Thanks' to the people who worked on this problem and took care of it for all of the abutters on Christine Drive, Mass Ave and Main Street.

To All Town Employees Thank You for your hard work and just know that a lot of people respect you for jobs well done.

Thanks Again,
John K. Murphy

Let's Hear it!!

Your Two Cents...

Attention Comcast: you don't have my business and you will never have my business because you continuously send your sales people to my house to bother me. Today it was dinnertime, 5:45 pm; what next...a wake up call with a coffee at 6:00 am??? Also, if they are going to keep bothering me have them come up with better BS as to why they are knocking on my door at dinnertime! "We're gonna be working on the street next week so I just wanted to let you know, ah, you have Comcast right?" Ah, no I don't and you already knew that, that's why your bothering me....knucklehead! There should be laws against this.

St. Dorothy's Bazaar

The Catholic Community of Wilmington and South Tewksbury invite you to attend St. Dorothy's 57th Annual Bazaar on November 4 and November 5. On Friday, the bazaar runs from 5:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m.; on Saturday 9:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

There will be refreshments, craft tables, attic treasures and white elephant tables. In addition, the Children's Corner will feature games and prizes, face painting and crafts.

Multiple raffles include the chance to win baskets of cheer, a $200 Market Basket gift card, and a big raffle prizes of $1,000 and $500.

St. Dorothy's is on Main Street in Wilmington. Admission is free.

Crafters and vendors wanted

WILMINGTON - On Saturday, October 15, the Wilmington Sons of Italy Junior Lodge is holding their annual Fall Fair. The fair will be held at St. Thomas Villanova Hall located on Middlesex Avenue in Wilmington. The cost per table is $30. The cost includes an eight-foot table and chairs. You can set up any time that morning after 8:00 a.m. There will be Jr. Lodge members available to assist you.

In addition to the wide variety of crafters and vendors we also have an extensive bake table, impressive raffle table and "white elephant" table.

The kitchen will be open for breakfast including homemade doughnuts, coffee, tea, hot chocolate and various pastries. Lunch will include homemade meatball subs and hot dogs. We will also be selling popcorn.

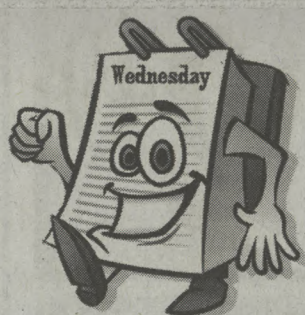

The Sons of Italy Junior Lodge is a non-profit organization whose purpose is to promote Italian culture and national education to combat discrimination for all regardless of race, culture or religion. You do not have to be of Italian descent to be a member. If you are between the ages of 10-18 and would like to join please contact Gianna Buscone at 978-658-2896. The Junior Lodge collects for Local Heroes and Shriners Tabs For Kids at every monthly meeting. Two members had an ongoing clothing drive for the Epilepsy Foundation last year. The members volunteer their time to many organizations as well as having having a booth at the 4th of July festivities.

The proceeds from the fair will benefit the Scholarship Fund.

If you are interested in purchasing a table please contact Mary Buscone at 978-658-2896 or mbuscone@comcast.net. If you are a local non-profit group interested in a space please contact us.

Wilmington Dance Academy was honored to have been chosen as one of the 20 groups to audition for the opening act for the Radio City Christmas Spectacular. On Saturday, September 17, in Faneuil Hall, the dancers, Kelsye Trouville, Rachel Donovan, Danielle Gillis, Emily Bean, Sara Stumpf, Colleen West and Nicole Nelson performed a tap routine to "Shoeless Joe." They were greatly appreciated by the audience and placed in the top four overall. The experience was a memorable one for all the dancers and the studio was honored to place high. Wilmington Dance Academy looks forward to the new dance season and all the exciting opportunities ahead!

Minority leaders file legislation to protect the Commonwealth's electric ratepayers

Seek to require competitive bidding for long-term renewable energy contracts

BOSTON - House Minority Leader Bradley H. Jones, Jr. (R-North Reading) and Senate Minority Leader Bruce E. Tarr (R-Gloucester), in their effort to bring transparency to the ratepayers of the Commonwealth, have filed legislation to require the competitive solicitation of long-term renewable energy contracts by public utilities.

Filed in response to the costly Cape Wind-National Grid contract, House Docket 4048 seeks to alleviate the unnecessary financial burden that contracts resulting from private negotiations place on the Commonwealth's ratepayers, businesses, and municipalities.

"It is a sincere fear of mine, that practices similar to the ones used to solidify the contract between Cape Wind and National Grid will lay the framework for a very dangerous and costly precedent here in the Commonwealth," said Representative Brad Jones. "The legislation that we have filed will help foster an environment of open door, competitive bidding on contracts that have direct, and potentially significant impacts, on the wallets of the residents of Massachusetts."

Under the Green Communities Act of 2008, utilities are required to solicit long-term renewable energy contracts twice in a 5 year period; however, current law does not require the solicitation procedure to be competitive and instead allows these utilities to engage in closed-door negotiations. Recently, NSTAR successfully secured three long-term renewable energy contracts with smaller land-based wind projects at a significantly lower cost than National Grid's contract with Cape Wind, illustrating how competitive solicitation procedures stand to benefit the Commonwealth's ratepayers.

The legislation, filed in both the House and Senate, clarifies the definition of cost-effective long-term contracts to mean those proposed contracts which either: (1) result in net ratepayer savings when compared to current and projected future market prices of energy; or (2) are least costly in terms of electric service rates.

"The cost of electricity is a major factor for the budgets of Massachusetts residents and their employers. Contracts need to safeguard their interests first and foremost," said Senator Bruce Tarr. "This legislation will work to ensure that the costs passed on to consumers come from a process of transparency and not the shadows of other agendas."

House Docket 4808 is currently awaiting a bill number and committee assignment.

Note

The Publisher's Statement to the left reflects a modest decline in our circulation from a year ago. Such a decline is a major victory in a climate of newspapers faltering all across the nation. We at the Town Crier are proud to present our paid distribution numbers, and encourage the public to research how our numbers compare with our competition. We have consistently maintained high levels of readership in Tewksbury and Wilmington for decades through good, fair and honest reporting of the news of the two towns we cover.

While some have declared the newspaper dead, we at the Town Crier declare we are alive and well, as are the towns we cover:

Tewksbury, USA
Wilmington, USA

We thank the 5,000 families who buy and read our newspaper each and every week and will continue providing fair, equitable coverage to our towns.

Singing Trooper returns to Wilmington

WILMINGTON - Our Public Safety Building was dedicated on October 21, 2001. Those who attended this event will recall the electrifying voice of Sgt. Dan Clark who sang a medley of patriotic songs. Dan retired from the State Police in 2005, but continues to travel the country with his unique style of entertainment.

The Sarah Carter Committee is happy to announce that Dan Clark will return to Wilmington on October 28 for a concert at the Middle School. In addition to his patriotic songs, Dan will show off his talents as he sings popular, Broadway, opera, Irish, and Italian songs; along with his tribute to Elvis.

Join us at 7:00 p.m. in the Middle School at 25 Carter Lane on Friday, October 28, 2011. As always, these programs are free of charge and all are welcome.

OBITUARIES

George E. Bryant, Jr.

Truck driver for Robert Francis Trucking

NORTH READING - George E. Bryant, Jr., age 69, of North Reading, formerly a long-time resident of Wilmington, died peacefully at the Lahey Clinic in Burlington on September 30, 2011.

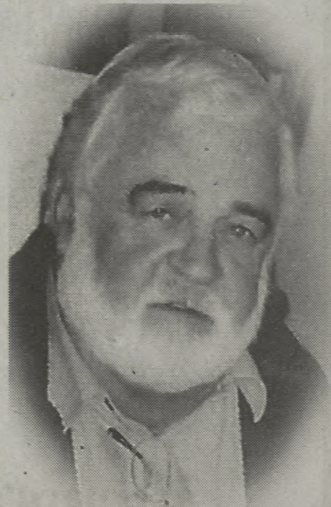

George was born in Woburn, MA on February 11, 1942, he was the son of the late George and Bernice (Brandt) Bryant. George was raised and educated in Wilmington, MA.

George lived in Reading for several years, where he raised his children, and then returned to Wilmington, which he always considered "home".

George will be remembered for his great personality; he was well liked by everyone. He was also a very hard worker, he was employed for many years as a truck driver for Robert Francis Trucking in Wilmington.

George was a huge Boston sports fan, following the Red Sox and Patriots regularly. He also enjoyed woodworking and was an avid fisherman.

George was a devoted family man, he loved being with his grandchildren and taking in their activities. George loved his children and grandchildren unconditionally and was very proud of all of their accomplishments. He will be greatly missed by his family and friends.

George is survived by his children Kevin G. Bryant & his wife Karen of North Reading and Kelly Naylor & her husband John formerly of Salem, NH, and their mother Judith Bryant. He was the loving grandfather of Colby and Kyle Bryant, Raina, Brooke, and Skylee Naylor, and the brother of the late Robert Bryant.

Family and friends will gather for visiting hours on Saturday, October 15th from 1-3 p.m. at the Nichols Funeral Home, Inc., 187 Middlesex Ave. (Rte. 62), Wilmington. Memorial donations in George's name may be made to Lahey Clinic, Attn: Palliative Medicine Services, 41 Mall Road, Burlington, MA 01803.

Bronislawa Szczypek

Persevered through difficult life in WWII; Thrived in America

WILMINGTON - Bronislawa Szczypek "Bronia" was born in Baligrod in an area known as Galicia, part of the Austro-Hungarian Empire in 1917. She was one of eight children born to Jakob Jarema and Jozefa Malik. She grew up in the village of Hoczew in an area that would later become the southeastern corner of Poland, at the foot of the Carpathian Mountains. As a child she was expected to do her chores, including tending to the family cow, although she would have preferred reading. At the outbreak of World War II in 1939, Bronia and her family were taken by the invading Russian Army to a slave labor camp in the gulags, where they remained for three years, until they were "pardoned" by Joseph Stalin.

In 1942, Bronia and her family were evacuated from the camp along with many other Polish refugees and traveled through Persia (now Iran) and East Africa (now Uganda) to Koya, a British settlement camp on the shores of Lake Victoria where they lived for five years. While in the settlement camp she became a seamstress.

After the war, Bronia emigrated to England, where she married Kazimierz Szczypek, a veteran of the Polish Army in exile. Starting over again in a new country was difficult, but she and "Kazik" saved their money and started a family. When a sponsor in America offered them the opportunity to emigrate again, they did so, and arrived in New York in 1952.

Bronia raised her family in Chelsea, Massachusetts, and she was a congregant of Saint Stanislaus Church for many years. When her children were old enough, Bronia went to work at Mark Fore Industries in Everett, Massachusetts, where she was employed for over thirty years.

After she retired, Bronia lived with Kazik in Wilmington, Massachusetts.

for over thirty years, where they created a very large garden, filled with a variety of vegetables that they harvested and preserved in their root cellar. They briefly raised rabbits, and also one young goose that got separated from its flock and sometime later ended up on the Christmas dinner table.

Bronia suffered the loss of her beloved son Adam in 1989, and her husband Kazimierz in 1995. And without Kazik, she had to reduce the size of her garden because it became too much work for just one person. But Bronia continued to live independently in Wilmington for as long as she could, until her memory started to fail her.

Bronislawa will be greatly missed by her children, as well as the grandchildren who called her "Babcia".

Bronislawa was the devoted mother of Teresa Willard and her husband Douglas of Lexington, Richard Szczypek and his wife Gayle of Hamden, CT, Joseph Szczypek and his wife Alexandra of Wilmington, the late Adam and George Szczypek.

She is also survived by eleven grandchildren and several great grandchildren and is preceded in death by her seven siblings.

Funeral services were held from the Dello Russo Funeral Home, 374 Main St., Wilmington, Saturday, October 1st, at 11:30 a.m. followed by a funeral mass celebrated in St. Dorothy Church, Main St., Wilmington, at 12 p.m.

Relatives and friends were respectfully invited to attend and visit with the family prior to the funeral mass from 10 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. Services concluded with burial at Wildwood Cemetery, Wilmington.

Memorial contributions may be made in Bronislawa's memory to Marist Hill Nursing Home Resident Activity Fund, 66 Newton St., Waltham, MA 02453.

The New Roman Missal

St. Agnes/St. Athanasius upcoming adult education program

READING - Msgr. James P. Moroney has been invited to be a guest speaker at the next St. Agnes/St. Athanasius Adult Education Fall Program to take place on Wednesday, October 19 at 7:30 p.m. in St. Agnes' Lower Church, 186 Woburn Street, Reading. His topic will be the newly translated Roman Missal and upcoming liturgical changes. This new translation will be in use at the beginning of Advent 2011, and the November introduction of it is considered to be one of the most important developments for the Catholic Church in the English-speaking world in the post-Vatican II era.

Msgr. Moroney was one of many who spent years rigorously translating the original Missal text. He has been a priest of the Diocese of Worcester for the past thirty-one years, is rector of Saint Paul's Cathedral and serves as a member of the faculty of Saint John's Seminary. He is a frequent lecturer on liturgical matters. All are invited to attend.

BBB warns of Yellow Page scams being run by local operations

Woburn firm on the list

NATICK - BBB is warning of a Yellow Pages Scam that is being run by four local operations. One is located in Vermont - Business Solutions Online, and the other three operations are located in Massachusetts - Open Business Directory Limited, Official Yellow Guide Inc. and Yellow Page Solutions. Businesses throughout the country are receiving fraudulent invoices from these operations for unauthorized online advertising.

"BBB encourages businesses to carefully read any bill or invoice they receive before paying it," says Paula Fleming, BBB Spokesperson. "Don't provide your business information or a payment if you do not remember requesting the service. Thoroughly check out any organization that sends you a bill, especially if you believe the services were unauthorized."

The Federal Trade Commission (FTC) has recently uncovered several operations that were running previous Yellow Page listing scams. Several small businesses, non-profits and churches in Colorado were bilked out of millions of dollars after being tricked in paying for unwanted listings in online business directories by Yellow Pages BV. The FTC seeks to permanently stop these illegal practices and to require that the organization refund their victims.

The operations in Massachusetts and Vermont have had several complaints filed against them by businesses regarding billing or advertising issues. Business Solutions Online is located in Derby Line, Vermont and has an F Rating with BBB. They are also listed at the same address under the name Business Network Power Online Services. There are 22 complaints filed against this entity, several of which are unresolved.

Open Business Directory Ltd. is located in Boston, Massachusetts and is also known as Yellowpageusa.com. They have an F Rating with BBB, as well as 52 unanswered complaints. Official Yellow Guide Inc. is also based in Boston, Massachusetts, with a BBB Rating of F. There are 15 unanswered complaints against this operation. They are known under several other names, including Yellow Business Directory, and American Yellow Directory.

Yellow Page Solutions is located in Woburn, Massachusetts. Businesses state that Yellow Page Solutions sent them invoices for online advertising that were never agreed to. When confronting the operation about the unauthorized charges, businesses report that Yellow Page Solutions claim that a verbal contract was agreed to and if the past due amount is not paid, the business will be sent to collections.

In several cases, when businesses file a complaint with BBB against Business Solutions Online or Yellow Page Solutions, their desired settlement is a zero balance on their account. When BBB contacts these operations regarding the complaint, they state that they have audio taped receipts for the online advertising services. Upon review of the audio, the operation claims there was a 'misunderstanding' and agrees to terminate all fees, as well as to remove information about the business from their database.

BBB offers the following tips for businesses that receive Yellow Page solicitations or invoices:

- Look over each bill closely before paying it. If you have a question about the legitimacy of your bill, contact your Yellow Pages representative.
- Channel all invoices through one department and make sure they are cleared with the appropriate executives before they are paid.
- Bogus invoices are sometimes marked with the notice "This is Not a Bill." They may also lack a phone number.
- Check the BBB Business Review on any business that has contacted you before signing anything or giving out any payments or information.

If you believe you have received a call, fax or mailing from a bogus Yellow Pages entity, file a complaint with BBB at www.bbb.org/complaint. You can also contact the U.S. Postal Inspection Service at postalinspectors.uspis.gov, the Federal Trade Commission at www.ftc.gov or the Yellow Page Association at www.ypassociation.org.

Austin Preparatory School Open House

READING - Austin Preparatory School in Reading is hosting its Open House on Sunday, October 16 from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Austin is a Catholic, co-educational, independent day school serving students in grades six through 12 from more than 55 communities, including the Boston suburbs, Merrimack Valley, North Shore and Southern New Hampshire.

During the Open House, parents and prospective students will be able to view the entire campus, including classrooms, art, photography and music rooms, athletic fields and the gymnasium. Faculty, staff, school leadership and current parents and students will be on hand to answer questions and offer tours.

Austin offers a rigorous liberal arts curriculum, with low student-teacher ratios, flexible course placement and a unique Phase System which looks at students' academic abilities and places them accordingly in the college-preparatory program. The school strives always to challenge its students to perform at their highest ability level while offering strong academic support and instruction both in and out of the classrooms. Austin considers parents to be full partners in this important enterprise, and is proud of its family tradition, which is manifested and nurtured by an increasing number of legacy enrollments, including siblings, cousins and sons and daughters of alumni.

The deadline for applications is December 16, 2011, for enrollment in the 2012-2013 school year.

All applicants are required to take an entrance exam, which is offered at Austin on November 12, 2011 and December 10, 2011 at 8:30 a.m. The deadlines to register for the Entrance Exam are November 10 and December 8. Application and registrations may be completed at Austin's website: www.austin-prepschool.org.

To schedule a tour of Austin Prep, contact the Admission Office at 781-944-4900 ext. 834. The school is at 101 Willow St., Reading.

SEPAC's first annual Pizzamania a huge success!

WILMINGTON - What a delicious way to start the school year! The Wilmington Special Education Parents Advisory Council (SEPAC) sponsored its First Annual Pizzamania! Fundraiser on Friday, September 9, 2011, at the Knights of Columbus Hall in Wilmington. More than 390 attendees sampled pizza from 13 local Wilmington-area pizzerias and voted for their favorite cheese pizza. The talented cover band, Classic Groove, provided great tunes to dance the night away. More than 50 raffles prizes from area businesses were awarded that evening, and several local establishments sponsored tables. After lots of tasting, the ballots were tallied, and the winners for Best Cheese Pizza were announced: First Place: Lisa's Pizzeria, Main Street, Tewksbury Second Place: Sal's Pizza, Main Street, Tewksbury Third Place: Kendra & Anthony's Hand-Crafted Pizza, Main Street, Wilmington Congratulations to the winners! ## Tewksbury Senior Topics

Senior Center closed for Columbus Day, Piecemakers Annual Quilt Show, trip to Lizzie Borden house, and lots more

The Senior Center will be closed next Monday, October 10th, in recognition of Columbus Day. A safe holiday is wished to all.

The Golden Age Club will hold its regular monthly meeting next Tuesday, October 11th, beginning at 12:30 PM. GAC Bingo will follow the business meeting.

On Wednesday, October 12th, Kelsey Call from Elder Services of the Merrimack Valley will begin a six-week series on the "Powerful Tools for Caregivers." This program addresses the health of caregivers and gives them the "tools" to be happy, healthy caregivers for as long as possible; and, will help caregivers develop a wealth of self-help techniques in coping with the tasks at hand in caring for a loved one. The group will meet from 10:00 to 12:00 noon in the conference room at the Senior Center. There is no charge to participate and this series is open to caregivers of all ages.

For more information one may call the Senior Center at 978-640-4480. Those people interested in attending this series may drop-in or call the Senior Center to have his/her name placed on the List.

Care for the care receivers may be available during your participation in the program. For more information one may call Kelsey Call at 978-946-1251 or e-mail keall@esmv.org

Town Assessor, Jay Kelley, and representatives from Community Teamwork and Elder Services will be at the Senior Center next Thursday, October 13th, to discuss assistance programs available to residents. This information meeting will begin at 9:00 AM in Hall A. All are welcome to attend.

The Piecemakers will be holding its Annual Quilt Show at the Tewksbury Senior Center next weekend on Saturday and Sunday, October 15 and 16. This is a wonderful display of local talent. The public is welcome.

A Senior Center Cootie Party will be held at the Senior Center on Monday, October 17th, at 12:30 PM. All are welcome. Don't know how to play? No problem for the cootie players will be more than happy to help new players. A trip has been planned to visit the Lizzie Borden House in Fall River with a stop for lunch and possibly some shopping on Wednesday, October 19th. Sign-ups will begin on Tuesday, October 11th, at the Senior Center. The Silver Tones will hold its monthly dance on Friday, October 21st, from 7:00 to 10:00 PM. Why not come on down and support your Senior band and at the same time enjoy a great night of music. Tickets are available at the door at $10 per person. Refreshments are served mid evening.

Dr. Smith will conduct a Podiatry Clinic at the Senior Center on Saturday, October 22nd. The co-payment for this clinic is $15. The clinic is limited to 30 Tewksbury Senior Citizens; and, registration is on a first come basis. One may now sign-up for this clinic. Appointment times will be given when registering. In the afternoon on Saturday, October 22nd, the Senior Center Cribbage group will hold a Cribbage Tournament. Tournament activities will begin at 12:00 Noon. The entry fee is $20; and the public is welcome.

The Seniors will hold a Breakfast Benefit at the Senior Center on Sunday, October 23rd, from 7:30 to 11:00 AM. All are welcome. On Monday, October 24th, DJ Jon Mansfield will be back for an afternoon dance. Those wishing to reserve lunch are asked to obtain a ticket by October 19th. Tickets are $6 and include lunch.

The Red Hat Carnation Belles will hold a Halloween Party on Wednesday, October 26th. Tickets and information are now available at the Senior Center.

Then on Friday, October 28th, the Friends will hold its Annual Halloween Dance. Tickets are available now and at the door at $10 per person. Why not join in the Halloween spirit and dress in costume? A costume contest will be held just before the dance begins.

The Tewksbury Police Department and the Board of Health will conduct a "National Take Back Initiative Day" at the Tewksbury Police Station on Saturday, October 29th from 10:00 AM to 2:00 PM. This is a great opportunity to discard those unused or old prescription drugs.

On Saturday, October 30th, the Tewksbury Police Department will hold its "Safe Halloween 2011" event at Livingston Street Park from 11:00 AM to 2:00 PM. In the event of rain, the event will take place at the Senior Center. This will be a great time for the children and will include fun activities such as: touch a truck (all kinds of trucks); K9 demonstrations; Pumpkin/Goodie Bag give away to each child; face painting and crafts plus lots more.

Tickets are now available for the Lee Lewis and the Doo Wop Allstars show and dance at the Senior Center which will be held on Friday, November 4th, from 8:00 to 11:00 PM. Tickets are $15 per person and are now available. Tickets at the door will be contingent on whether or not tickets are still available. So don't be shut out, get your tickets early.

We also remind the public that tickets are now being sold for the ACTORS, inc. dinner theater of November 18, 19 and 20th, which will be held at the Senior Center. The performance will be "Sandbag...Stage Left." To make reservations, one may call the Box Office at 978-984-3251 or e-mail at: tickets@actorsincorporated.com. Be ready for murder, mayhem and laughs in this courtroom "who dun it" where the audience decides the outcome.

A reminder that SHINE Counselor, Jill, is available to advise Seniors Citizens on medical insurance options on Tuesdays by appointment. One may call the Center at 978-640-4480 to place his/her name on the SHINE list. Jill will then contact those on the list and arrange an appointment time. Open enrollment begins October 15 and ends in December. So if you need advice, it's wise to seek it early.

A pleasant fall week is wished to all. God Bless America.

Tony Perreira of Lisa's Pizzeria, Tewksbury won raves of approval, taking home first place for best cheese pizza at Pizzamania!

Register now for Burbank YMCA 22nd annual 5K Classic

READING - On Saturday, November 19, the Burbank YMCA will hold the 22nd Annual 5K Classic to benefit the Reach Out Campaign. The Reach Out fund provides financial assistance to local families and individuals used for YMCA memberships, swim and sports programs, after school care, summer camp, and much more.

The 5K Classic race will start at 9:00 a.m. on Church Street in Wakefield, will loop around Lake Quannapowitt, and then finish at the Wakefield Common. The race features winter running hats for the first 200 registered runners, electronic timing, raffle and post-race refreshments. Register for the race by November 7 and pay as little as $15 for adults and $5 for children under 12 years old.

The Burbank YMCA is also offering a Race Day Training

Program to get people ready for the 5K Classic. This program is great for both first time 5K runners as well as those looking to improve their 5K time. In this program you will work with your coach to set running goals and design an individual plan for your running success. The course includes a one-time per week running workout with your coach and peers as well as supplemental homework. The coach, Lynn Winans has over 30 years of running experience. Lynn has completed a number of races from 5K's to marathons at both a national and international level, including the Olympic Trials. As a running coach Lynn has worked with a variety of ages groups from beginner to nationally ranked runners. All levels are welcome, ages 18 and up. For more information on the Race Day Training Program, visit ymcaboston.org/burbank or call 781-909-7417.

For more information, or to register for the Burbank YMCA 5K Classic, visit ymcaboston.org/burbank, email Julie Slack at jslack@ymcaboston.org, or call 781-909-7417.

The Y is one of the nation's leading nonprofits strengthening communities through youth development, healthy living and social responsibility. Serving the communities of Reading, North Reading, Wakefield, Wilmington, and Stoneham, the Burbank YMCA welcomes men, women and children - regardless of age, income or background - to nurture the potential of children and teens, improve the nation's health and well-being, and provide opportunities to give back and support neighbors.

BBB warns local businesses of a deceptive mailing scam

Marlborough - BBB is warning businesses about misleading mailings they may receive from Compliance Services, a business based in Boston. Several states, including Massachusetts, Georgia, Ohio and Indiana, have issued warnings regarding the business' deceptive mailings. Compliance Services has an F Rating from BBB.

"BBB encourages business owners to do some research on any solicitations they receive that ask for payment even if the document looks official," says Paula Fleming, vice president of communications and marketing for BBB. "Don't provide business information or a payment until you have completely checked out the offer and organization. It is not uncommon for scammers to try and make a letter appear to be mailed from a government or state agency. Unless you read the fine print, you could easily be misled."

Compliance Services has sent mailings to local businesses titled "Annual Minutes Requirement Statement Directors and Shareholders" and offers to complete corporate meeting minutes for a $125 fee. According to Massachusetts Secretary of State William Francis Galvin, Massachusetts corporations are not required by law to file corporate minutes with the State of Massachusetts. Any official statement or request from the Office of the Secretary of State will clearly indicate its origin and include the name of William Francis Galvin.

BBB has received complaints from local businesses regarding this scam. The mailings appear to be in a similar format as forms sent from the Office of the Secretary of State and include a Massachusetts Corporation Number. The letter will include a disclaimer in fine print stating that Compliance Services is not affiliated with any government agency, but many businesses are misled since the document looks official.

Business owners who believe that they have been victims of this scam should contact the Secretary of State at 617-727-9640 or visit www.sec.state.ma.us. You can also file a complaint with BBB at www.bbb.org/file-a-complaint and the Attorney General's Office at www.mass.gov.

For additional information and advice you can trust as a business owner, start with bbb.org.

BBB is an unbiased non-profit organization that sets and upholds high standards for fair and honest business behavior. Businesses that earn BBB accreditation contractually agree and adhere to the organization's high standards of ethical business behavior. BBB provides objective advice, free business BBB Reliability Reports and charity BBB Wise Giving Reports, and educational information on topics affecting marketplace trust. To further promote trust, BBB also offers complaint and dispute resolution support for consumers and businesses when there is difference in viewpoints. The first BBB was founded in 1912. Today, 125 BBBs serve communities across the U.S. and Canada, evaluating and monitoring more than four million local and national businesses and charities. Please visit bbb.org for more information about BBB.

Career & College Planning Night

BILLERICA - Shawsheen Valley Technical High School is hosting their annual Career and College Planning Night on Thursday, October

27, 2011 from 6:00 - 8:00 p.m. in the gymnasium. There will be over 60 representatives from a variety of public and private colleges, universities, community colleges, and technical institutes as well as military representatives. All are welcome!

Pet of the Week

Abigail will enjoy you as much as you enjoy her

Abigail's beautiful green eyes look deep into yours, melting your heart along the way to reaching your soul. She is about 14-months old with a gorgeous medium-length rust, black and white calico coat, which complements her eyes. Her unusual markings, cute pink nose and little chirpy meow completes the picture of this mellow and sweet girl. Abigail gets along well with the other cats in her foster home and just enjoys being a cat. She is conscientiously clean and also takes her litter box responsibility very seriously.

One cute thing about her is that although she loves to play and socialize with her kitty friends, when it comes to mealtime or time to sleep, she takes her leave and prefers to eat from her own dishes and sleep in her own bed. It is just a bit of independence she shows, lest anyone forget she IS a cat.

Abigail was abandoned outdoors, not spayed, and therefore became pregnant. She had six kittens and was taken in by one of our fine foster moms where Abigail could care for her kittens in a loving home environment. Her kittens have all found homes, but she is still waiting for a home of her own.

Abigail would love to lounge around your home, stretching out in sunspots on the floor or gazing out the windows. She will make a lovely, calm companion for someone who appreciates her incredible beauty and wonderful personality, someone who enjoys having a cat as much as she will enjoy having you.

Tsongas endorses Elizabeth Warren for U.S. Senate

LOWELL, MA - October 3, 2011 - This afternoon, Fifth District Congresswoman Niki Tsongas endorsed Elizabeth Warren for United States Senate at an event in Lowell, Massachusetts. Below is a copy of Tsongas' remarks endorsing Warren as prepared for delivery.

"I am proud to endorse Elizabeth Warren today for the United States Senate. Throughout her distinguished career, Elizabeth has made fighting for the middle class her life's work.

"Her candidacy in this race is particularly important as our Commonwealth and our country work to recover from one of the worst economic crises in recent history.

"At a time when our financial regulatory safeguards have failed us, Elizabeth fiercely advocated for the creation of a Consumer Financial Protection Bureau and Wall Street reform, efforts that I was proud to join her in advancing. She had many opponents in this battle, at times being named, 'the scourge of Wall Street,' if you can believe it, but she worked hard to build support for her idea and fought tirelessly to see it enacted. She stood up to big banks, corporate interests, and all of the cynics and naysayers, and if she can do that and win, we know she will stand up for each and every one of us as a United States Senator.

"There are plenty of people in Washington to look out for the special interests and their friends on Wall Street. What we need are more people like Elizabeth in Washington looking out for people like you and the families here in the Fifth District.

"In the Senate, Elizabeth will fight to level the playing field so that you have a voice. She sees an America that invests in people, with educational opportunities that don't require a lifetime of crushing debt, where entrepreneurs take an idea and start a business without becoming bogged down in red tape, and a place where our sense of fairness dictates that each of us pay our fair share in contributing to our economic recovery.

"Elizabeth has led the fight against predatory lending practices, while championing the rights of homeowners and consumers. And, as she often says, she 'came up the hard way...out of a hard-working middle class family' which has helped her understand the unique economic challenges facing communities like the Merrimack Valley.

"We are fortunate to have so many great candidates seeking the Democratic nomination for Senate. I have had the privilege of getting to know many of them and they have all brought, and will continue to bring, new ideas and energy to the debate.

"However, I believe that Elizabeth Warren's unique experiences, many accomplishments, and deep seated commitment to fighting for the middle class, best qualify her for the challenges we now face.

"Last year, I invited Elizabeth to speak at an event I hosted in Washington, DC for Fifth District constituents. Around the time of that event, TIME magazine featured Elizabeth on its cover as one of three female 'Sheriffs of Wall Street,' along with SEC chair Mary Shapiro and FDIC chair Sheila Bair. When asked on a radio program about her thoughts regarding the role of these prominent women in Washington who were trying to address the financial crisis and its fallout she said, 'Let's face it. There's still no line in the ladies' room.'

"That statement resonates here in Massachusetts as well. In the more than two hundred year history of our Commonwealth only four women have gone to Washington to represent Massachusetts in Congress.

"Two of those women were elected right here in the Fifth Congressional District. In 1925, five years after women earned the right to vote, this district elected Edith Nourse Rogers as the first woman from Massachusetts to serve in Congress; she still holds the record as the longest serving Congresswoman. And, in 2007, this district elected me to Congress as the first woman from Massachusetts in a quarter century. So, it is not inappropriate that we're here today with Elizabeth Warren who again has a chance to make history as the first female Senator from Massachusetts.

"Given the Fifth District's long history of sparking change, I am sure this district will once again be true to its revolutionary spirit, support Elizabeth Warren, and help send to Washington a U.S. Senator who will be a forceful and effective voice for change."

Free child safety seat inspection and installation clinic

Sponsored by the Tewksbury Police Department

TEWKSBURY - Every year, thousands of children are tragically injured or killed in motor vehicle crashes. In fact, motor vehicle crashes are the leading cause of death of children age 3 and older in the United States. Securing your children properly in age and size appropriate child safety seats in the back seat of your vehicle is the most effective way to protect them in the event of a crash.

The Tewksbury Police Department, in conjunction with the Tewksbury Community Food Pantry's Board of Directors, will be providing a no cost Child Safety Seat Inspection and Installation Clinic during the October Sunday and Saturday distributions. This service will be extended to all clients of the Tewksbury Community Food Pantry and their families. Police Department personnel who are State Certified child safety seat installation and inspection experts will be on hand in the parking lot at the Pantry to inspect existing seats and to provide and install new infant, toddler, and booster seats to those clients and family members who are in need. Information regarding the laws and restrictions associated with child passenger safety along with age, weight, and sizing guidelines will be available during this time.

Handicapped child safety seats are available in limited supply. Clients in need of handicapped child safety seats would need to contact Officer Kim Riccardi at 978 851-7373 extension 172 or determine if a proper seat is available. The Tewksbury Police Department would like to thank all those that participate in advance for allowing us to help ensure the safety of your children and grandchildren.

This clinic, which is open to all clients and their families, will take place in the parking lot of the pantry during the Sunday, October 9 (9 a.m.-12 p.m.) and the Saturday, October 15 (10 a.m.-12 p.m.) distributions. If you come to the Monday distribution you are still welcome to come to the clinic on either day. We will have a pantry volunteer at the clinic checking off names. We would encourage all those clients that use or need a child safety seat to attend.

Spaghetti dinner to benefit mission work

TEWKSBURY - On Saturday, October 15, Tewksbury Congregational Church is serving a home-made spaghetti and meatball dinner with donations to benefit the 2012 mission trip to Mexico. From 5:30 - 7:00 p.m., members of the Mexico missions team will be serving a traditional, mouth-watering meal accompanied by salad, bread with dipping oil, dessert and beverages. Our friends at Cappellini's and Applebees have generously donated parts of this meal.

A free-will offering will be collected with a suggested donation of $7/person with a cap of $25/household.

All proceeds will help support the mission team and their service to the children's home, Resplandor de Vida, in Juarez, Mexico. Learn more about the incredible work TCC's mission teams have lovingly been doing with Harvest Hands Ministries over the last several years by visiting harvesthandsministries.org.

Members of Tewksbury Congregational Church look forward to serving you on the 15 of October and serving impoverished children south of the border in April 2012.

Tewksbury Congregational Church is at 10 East Street, Tewksbury.

Viva La Diva!

The 2011 TCNE opera production

NORTH ANDOVER - Treble Chorus of New England will be presenting their opera "Viva La Diva!" on Friday and Saturday, November 4 and 5, 2011 at 7:00 p.m. at the Doherty Middle School, 70 Shawsheen Road, Andover. This is a fully-staged opera performed and produced by their choristers. Tickets are $16/adults, $10/students and seniors. For more information, call 978-794-4600 or email Anna S. Choi at tcnemanager@treblechorusne.org or go to www.treblechorusne.org.

This year's opera brings us behind the curtains of an opera company with waring prima donnas and the exasperated opera director Mr. Baton. In an attempt to regain control over his singers and to increase public interest, Mr. Baton holds an audition for a new star in the upcoming production. Amid the hopes and dreams of would-be opera stars and jealous chorus members, the reigning divas try to convince the director how unnecessary the audition is. Mr. Baton surprises them all by saying he has already found his new star...his secretary!

Tension is high at the first rehearsal of the new production, but it seems like the new star is not as naive or innocent as she seems to be. Rivalry between the singers start again and it isn't long before Mr. Baton finds himself back in the same situation that he first started with.

Let's win it again for Wilmington!

WILMINGTON - For the second year, Liberty Mutual is running a Fire Safety promotion which can result in the Wilmington Fire Department receiving a $10,000.00 grant. In order for the Department to win, residents need to complete a short quiz on the Liberty Mutual website then enter the required information for Wilmington, Mass. This is the fourth contest of this type that Liberty Mutual has run - two for Fire Safety and two for "Bring Back the Fourth." Wilmington has been a winner in each of the three prior contests but, as of today, WILMINGTON IS IN 44TH PLACE.

Spread the word so we can help the WFD once again. Please tell your friends, family, colleagues, post on Facebook - whatever it takes, we WILL win again!!! Deadline to enter is October 31.

Here is the link to the contest: www.befiresmart.com/protect-your-community/fire-safety-pledge/

Black Cat Benefit Bash For Animal Rescue Merrimack Valley

BRADFORD - Animal Rescue Merrimack Valley (ARMV) is throwing its annual Black Cat Benefit Bash on Friday evening, October 14, from 6:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m. The Nevins Memorial Library at 305 Broadway in Methuen will lend its historical charm and elegance to host this silent auction/fundraiser to benefit the area's homeless animals.

Care to take a peek into your future with a reading by the psychic Valeria? Enjoy sumptuous appetizers prepared by local chefs as you bid on your favorite auction items. Be dazzled by the dance rhythms of "Sweat and Tears" and entertained by a night of live music!

Formal, casual, or costumed attire is appropriate. Cat or dog hair on your clothing? No problem! You'll be among friends!

Proceeds from the evening will help ARMV purchase food, provide medical care, and fund sterilization clinics for the many feral, stray, and foster cats in its care.

ARMV is a 501(c)(3) non-profit organization. All donations are tax deductible.

Tickets for this event are $15 in advance and $20 at the door. Reserve by calling: 978-374-7233 or send an email to armv@armv.org.

Flynn Travel and Tours

Opened in 1974 at The Towne Plaza in Billerica, Flynn Travel and Tours has been helping people plan their dream vacations for nearly forty years.

Today, with a new owner and a new office space within Towne Plaza, Flynn Travel is more ready than ever to help customers with all of their leisure and corporate travel needs.

No stranger to the travel industry, owner Janice Underwood began her career in travel in 1981 when she left college to help a friend in the industry. From that day forward she was hooked on travel and joined the Flynn Travel team in 1996.

While the travel industry has changed considerably over the years Flynn Travel's commitment to personal service has never wavered. With a reputation for experience and customer care, Flynn Travel's number one goal is to make certain that each one of their clients has the vacation of a lifetime.

A longtime local resident, Underwood is always there for her customers and is proud to say that, unlike an internet based travel company, she is available by phone 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

These days Flynn Travel specializes in leisure and corporate travel for individuals as well as groups. With years of experience booking tour packages and cruises, Underwood knows how to find the best fit for each individual traveler's needs. Recently, Flynn Travel and Tours even became involved with a women's travel group which specializes in allowing women to travel in a group environment with or without a roommate.

Flynn Travel provides customers with security and peace of mind and never charges extra fees for tour packages and cruises.

For more information on planning your vacation with Flynn Travel call or email them today at 978-667-8513 or janiceunderwood@verizon.net, or visit them on Facebook at Flynn Travel & Tours.

Please come to our open house on Oct 11- from 5 PM to 8 PM- to celebrate 1 year under new ownership and our new office. Stop by for a bite to eat and enter to win some new luggage and other prizes. ## Influenza vaccination clinic for adults

Oct. 12 in Woburn

WINCHESTER - Winchester Hospital's Community Health Institute is taking an active approach to preventing the spread of influenza, a serious respiratory disease that kills an average of 36,000 people and hospitalizes an additional 200,000 in the U.S. each year.

An influenza vaccination clinic will be offered for adults 19 and older on Wednesday, Oct. 12, 9 a.m. to 6 p.m., at Baldwin Park I, 12 Alfred St., Suite 207 in Woburn.

The influenza vaccination is recommended to prevent influenza disease and its complications, including pneumonia and even death. Those who contract influenza can spread the virus for 24 to 48 hours before symptoms appear, so it is critical that adults get immunized early in the influenza season. Because the strains of the virus that cause influenza change, a different influenza vaccine is recommended each year.

The cost of the influenza vaccination clinic is $22 per person, payable by cash, check, Visa or MasterCard. For more information, call the Community Health Institute at (781) 756-4700.

Winchester Hospital's Community Health Institute is committed to helping community members take responsibility for their health and well-being by offering the education and resources that change lives. Established in 1996, the Community Health Institute provides more than 30 programs and services throughout the year, with offerings in disease management, childbirth, integrative therapies, fitness, yoga, Tai Chi/Qi Gong, CPR and first aid, weight management, career services and support groups. The institute is also home to two retail services: A Caring Place, which features wigs, bras, prostheses and head coverings for women living with cancer; and the Lactation Center Boutique, which offers the highest quality breastfeeding supplies and support. Unless otherwise indicated within the program's description, for more information or to register, please call the Community Health Institute at (781) 756-4700 or visit www.winchester-hospital.org.

If you ever want to sit and talk to either Paul Cardello, Chairman of iPods for Wounded Veterans; John Parker, Commander of VFW Post 8819; or Ed Williams, Treasurer of VFW Post 8819, I guarantee it will bring a tear to your eye.

On Friday the 23rd of September, iPods for Wounded Veterans was visited by U.S. Senator Scott Brown, Representative James Miceli (Tewksbury and Wilmington), Representative Paul Adams

(Andover, Lawrence and Tewksbury) and Representative Marc Lombardo (Billerica). They heard firsthand the plight of the mission of providing comfort to wounded veterans while they recuperate from their war injuries. The support of Senator Brown and the Massachusetts delegation was tremendous.

WHS Sports Round-Up

Several Wildcat teams pick up big victories

By MIKE IPPOLITO & JAMIE POTE

The Wilmington High Golf team continued its unlikely march toward a possible post season berth this past week. The Wildcats went 1-1 on the week, but most importantly their one win came in a 51-21 triumph over Middlesex League Small rival Stoneham on Monday afternoon on their home course at Hillview Country Club.

The Wildcats record now stands at 4-7 overall on the season, but they are 2-1 in Middlesex Small matches, leaving them in second place in the league with two league matches remaining. If they are able to maintain their second place standing they will automatically qualify for the Division 2 state tournament.

In their win over winless Stoneham, the Wildcats were dominant, winning eight of nine matches to roll to the 30-point victory.

"We needed to win to keep our tournament hopes alive and the kids responded very well," Wilmington coach Steve Lynch said. "I told the kids before the match that Stoneham was not having a good season, but on any given day anything can happen so they would still need to be at their best, and they did a great job."

As he has all season long, senior captain Jon Keough led the way for the Wildcats shooting a 2-under par 34 on the day to win his match 6 ½ - 2 1/2. Fellow senior Dalton Rolli meanwhile shot a 39 to win his match by a score of 6-3.

Number three player Jeff Favuzza fired a 42 to come away with a 5 ½ - 3 ½ victory while sophomore Rory McEvoy earned a win in the number four slot by a score of 6 ½ - 2 1/2 while shooting a 40.

Number five player Steve Taylor shot a 42 to win his match 7 ½ - 1 ½ while No. 7 Matt Boutoures shot a 41 to win 8-1 and No. 8 Matt Charicosta shot a 44 to win 7 ½ - 1 ½.

Lynch was happy to see his team on the winning side of a lopsided match, as several matches this season have seen them on the losing end despite playing very well.

"I have said all season that we play in a tough league," Lynch said. "We have played good golf, but we are playing some teams that have been very good for a long time so sometimes it has been tough to pick up wins."

A good example of that came last Thursday when the Wildcats dropped a 44 ½ - 27 ½ decision to Woburn in a road match. Keough led the way shooting a 37, but could only manage a 4 ½ - 4 ½ tie, while Rolli shot a 39 and suffered a 5-4 loss.

"Keough is averaging 36 for nine holes and that's real good golfing and Rolli has also been playing very well," Lynch said. "But they are always going against the top two on every other team so they do not always get wins."

"Our scoring system is a good one, but it does not always indicate how well a kid has played."

The Wildcats have two matches left on the season, both Middlesex Small matches that will determine their playoff fate, starting with Watertown on the road on Thursday and wrapping up with Arlington at home at Hillview on Monday afternoon.

"If we win both we will be making plans for the post season," Lynch said. "Hopefully the kids will keep playing well and we are able to get there."

BOYS SOCCER

The Wilmington High School Boys Soccer team got back into the win column with a 5-3 home victory against Burlington on Saturday afternoon. The win pushes the Wildcats to one game behind the .500 mark at 3-4-1 overall, while the team improves to a 2-2-1 Middlesex League Small School record.

Wilmington struck first with a goal four minutes into the game as Kory McGilvary took a throw in and found Jamie Mara streaking in and his header off the throw beat the keeper for the 1-0 lead. After Burlington tied the game up at 1-1, Wildcat sophomore Drew Foley scored on a penalty kick making it 2-1. The Wildcats then scored three more unanswered goals as Foley and Mara notched their second of the game before Phil Lentini scored the team's fifth goal, all coming before the end of the first half.

Burlington scored two goals in the second half to cut the lead down to two goals but Wilmington hung on for the win.

Wilmington's game against Belmont on Tuesday was postponed with the rain. The Wildcats are back in action facing Arlington on the road on Thursday before coming back home on Monday to face the powerful Winchester Sachems for a 10:00 am start.

FIELD HOCKEY

The Wildcats also played just one game this past week losing to Belmont, 2-1, on Monday night. The loss puts Wilmington at 6-3-1 overall, thus the team needs five more points in its last eight games to qualify for the state tournament for the third consecutive year. Emily Colosimo scored the lone goal for the 'Cats.

"The girls didn't come out as hard as they could have in the first half," said head coach Jodi Campbell. "But they played a great second half. We just missed out on a few opportunities to score, but we definitely played well."

Wilmington will have a week off before its next game, facing Winchester on the road at noon on Monday, before coming home to face Stoneham next Wednesday night.

GIRLS SOCCER

On Tuesday night, the Wildcats unbeaten streak came to an end as Belmont came away with a 1-0 victory on their home turf despite the rain and terrible weather conditions. The very powerful Marauders scored the lone goal of the game in the 13th minute of the second half to come away with the victory.

"It was a typical Belmont team," said head coach Sue Hendee. "They were very good in the air, and in this game they definitely used the turf and their home field to their advantage."

Hendee added that Wilmington had better scoring opportunities in the second half as opposed to the first 40 minutes.

"We kind of lost our composure a little bit," she said. "But we had some chances in the second half and just didn't convert."

Hendee said that Kaitlyn Curley and Lauren McKenna played very well in the losing effort.

Prior to that, the Wildcats had run their unbeaten streak to eight games with a 2-2 tie against Burlington on Saturday. Rachel Grabar scored her sixth goal of the season to give Wilmington a quick 1-0 lead. After Burlington tied it up, Alex Bischoff gave Wilmington the lead again as she was set up by Adrianna Kippenberger. But then Burlington tied it back up at 2-2 on a goal from Jenna Shields.

Lauren Amazeen also picked up an assist, while Kim Woods made five saves in the net for the Wildcats.

Wilmington is now 5-2-3 overall and need just five points in its last eight games to qualify for the state tournament for the first time in three years.

The team will take on

Arlington at home on Thursday night at 6:00 pm, and then going to powerful Winchester on Monday morning.

VOLLEYBALL

After losing to both Burlington and North Andover, the Wilmington High School Volleyball team defeated Belmont, 3-1, Tuesday night, pushing the team's record to 4-7, an amazing accomplishment since the team came into this season extremely young and inexperienced and lacks overall team height.

Head coach Meghan Sheehy was happy with the win but said her team needs to play with more consistency.

"We play like we're on a rollercoaster," she said. "Always up, then down and then up again. We played like that again (against Belmont), but we were able to pull off (the win). Our goal for the rest of the season is just to stay up. Win or lose, if we play hard, we are OK with the outcome."

Wilmington defeated Belmont in four sets, losing the first one 23-25, before coming back win three straight, 25-15, 25-16 and 25-23.

Before that a very talented North Andover team swept Wilmington 3-0 (16-25, 14-25 and 7-25) and before that was a 3-1 loss to Burlington.

Wilmington will host Arlington on Thursday before going on the road to face Winchester on Tuesday.

Late surge not enough

Wildcats unexpectedly fall to Minutemen

By MIKE IPPOLITO
Sports Correspondent

LEXINGTON - For the final 11 minutes of the game this past Saturday afternoon, the Wilmington High football team looked like the team Wildcats fans had come to expect over the course of the first two games of the season. Unfortunately for the Wildcats and their fans, their fourth quarter effort was a little too late to make up for a very slow start, as the Wildcats suffered a 21-14 loss to Lexington High in a Middlesex League crossover battle at Dr. Harold J. Crumb Field.

The loss dropped the Wildcats to 2-1 on the season, while the Minutemen picked up their first win of the season to improve to 1-3. It was also the first win at Lexington for coach George Peterson who replaced the legendary Bill Tighe this season.

Wilmington fell into a 21-0 hole after three quarters, the result of some sloppy play particularly in the early going of the contest, but behind the fourth quarter efforts of senior quarterback Matt Ferreira and a defense that made a couple of key defensive stands, the Wildcats fought back and were within an onside kick recovery for an opportunity to go in with the tying score.

The Wildcats turned the ball over five times to the Minutemen on the day, three times in the first half, and the miscues simply proved to be too much to overcome. Another huge factor in the setback was that the normally potent Wildcats ground attack was stuck in neutral all day, as Wilmington was held to 17 yards rushing in the game.

Lexington got on the board late in the first quarter as a result of the first of Wilmington's turnovers, recovering a fumble at the Wildcat 29 yard line and then going on a four play drive that was capped by a two yard touchdown run by senior running back Nick Murray with 47 seconds left in the quarter for a 7-0 lead after the first of three extra point kicks by CJ Curran.

The lead expanded to 14-0 with just 39 seconds left in the half on a perfectly executed 26 yard hook and lateral play that saw Noah Hurley give a perfect pitch to Murray after hauling in a pass from quarterback Shane Foley at about the 20 yard line.

Wilmington head coach Mike Barry took responsibility for his squad's sluggish start to the game.

"We came out flat and that is a result of the way we practiced during the week," Wilmington coach Mike Barry said. "And that goes to me. It is my responsibility to make sure that doesn't happen."

The Wildcats actually looked pretty good at times defensively in the first half and throughout the game, often times finding themselves in the Lexington backfield, coming up with five sacks on the day.

Unfortunately for the Wildcats, just as often they were unable to wrap up a Lexington ball carrier and saw them escape their clutches to go on to positive yardage.

"You can't be a good team if you don't tackle well," Barry said. "You can get around the blocking and get in great position and do everything else right, but it doesn't matter if you don't make the tackle."

Wilmington came out looking to get on the board to start the second half, marching from their 19 yard line to their 43 yard line on their opening drive of the half keyed partially by a 13-yard pass from Ferreira to junior receiver Sam Borseti, but a bad snap caused a 13 yard loss on their next play and a tipped ball on the play after that resulted in an interception to squelch the drive.

With 29 seconds left in the third quarter Lexington scored their final touchdown of the game, a nice pass down the left sideline from Foley to Hurley for a 21-0 lead. Lexington scored in the final minute in each of the first three quarters.

Wilmington finally got on the board with 7:36 left in the game when Ferreira hit receiver Tim Woods in stride for a 31-yard touchdown pass. James O'Regan's extra point pulled the Wildcats to within 21-7.

Later in the fourth, a bad snap over the head of the Lexington punter gave the Wildcats the ball at the Lexington 16 yard line, and the Wildcats immediately responded, needing only two plays for Ferreira to hook up with Sam Borseti for the 16 yard scoring pass and a 21-14 deficit with 2:06 left in the game.

"We struggled running the ball, but we got the passing game going late," Barry said. "Matt made some nice throws and it got us back in the game."

Following the Borseti touchdown the Wildcats attempted and onside kick, but he Minutemen pounced on the loose ball and were able to run out the clock by connecting on two straight passes after being dropped for a six yard loss on second down.

As disappointed as he was in the loss and in the way his team came out to play early n the game, Barry was equally impressed with the way they battled to the final whistle.

"It was disappointing that we came out flat, but I know this team's character and I know they will keep fighting," Barry said. "Even though we were lacking that extra spark we still kept fighting and had the opportunity to try an onside kick with a chance to tie the game."

Wilmington will attempt to get back in the win column on Friday night when they host Woburn at Alumni Field in another Middlesex League crossover game with Woburn, coming out from the large school division.

Woburn brings just a 1-4 record into the contest, but that one win was one of the most impressive of season for any team, as they upset a powerhouse Billerica squad in week two by a score of 12-7.

The Tanners have also suffered a couple of close losses to quality teams, including last week's 34-26 decision to Middlesex League favorite Burlington and a 19-18 loss to Melrose in week three.

The Tanners are led offensively by quarterback Hunter Romano who has thrown three touchdown passes, along with running back Chucky Ortiz who ranks third in Division 2 with 44 points on the strength of seven touchdown runs, including scores of 74 and 63 yards.

"It doesn't get any easier," Barry said. "They came up a little short against Burlington, but they put up some points against them and battled them hard. They are a good, physical football team and we will have to be better than we were today if we want to beat them."

Mite 1's face-off against Revere in fantastic hockey game

On October 1st, the Wilmington's Mite 1 youth hockey team traveled to Revere to face-off against a red hot undefeated Agawam Mite 1 team.

The Wildcats have been waiting all week to get on with the next game of this young playoff season. James Kourkoutas made his second appearance in net, determined and excited at a shot for a win. Agawam started the action quickly testing the Wilmington Goaltender with a shot while James turned it aside for a save. Derek Gallucci started the action for these Wildcats as he took advantage of a neutral zone breakdown and went in making no hesitation while scoring his first goal of the game putting Wilmington up 1-0 early.

Matthew Ardito got into the action quickly as well, breaking up a play at the blue line with quick stick work and then showing his blazing speed as he skated up the ice and faked the goalie to the opposite side of the net showcasing his nifty side while sliding in the puck to a wide open net for his first goal of the game making it 2-0.

Agawam didn't go quietly as they broke out on a breakaway scoring while aiming at the five hole on the Wilmington net minder cutting the score to 2-1. Brendon Ardito wanted in on the action as he scored on his own rebound, showing drive and determination making it 3-1. Jimmy McCarron and Drew Gallucci teamed up on defense stifling any stick handling that came into the defensive zone. Maura Fiorenza, Peter Kourkoutas and Evan Munro teamed up creating offensive chance after chance. Ryan Ackerley and Nolan Vigeant showed that they can move the puck put of the defensive zone effortlessly. Nathan Alberti, Sam Cedrone and Matthew Ardito put on a skills show as they carved the ice while stick handling through the opposition with precision. Nathan Alberti was all over the ice on this one as he stopped a play from surfacing as he poke checked the play dead. Nolan Vigeant kept the play inside the blue line as Derek Gallucci made a nice pass to Matthew Ardito only to be stopped by a great save. Agawam did not want his to get out of site as they pressured the Mites and finally scored making it 3-2 Wilmington.

Jimmy McCarron dove across the middle to block a shot, as Jack Farrell played great two way hockey to thwart any attempts to tie the score. Early in the second Nolan Vigeant showed his speed, stick handling and shot making abilities as he skated coast to coast and labeled a shot under the crossbar making it 4-2 Wildcats.

James Kourkoutas made key saves, as Ryan Ackerley showed his fearless energy while diving to make a block. Nathan Alberti made a beautiful shot only to catch the pad of a sliding goaltender. Jimmy McCarron skated around the net and made a awesome pass to Derek Gallucci who passed it over to Jack Farrell who then passed to Brendan Ardito for his second of the game making it 5-2. It was beautiful to watch the puck movement as four players moved the puck strategically and produced another goal.

James Kourkoutas continued to make nice saves as he stopped a breakaway. Jack Farrell went from defense to offense in an instance as he broke up a play and went in on a breakaway for his first goal of the game making it 6-2. Peter Kourkoutas got in the action as he scored his first of the game making it 7-2. Ryan Ackerley showed his strength as he simply overpowered the wing to take the puck and clear the zone. James Kourkoutas showed that he can stop more shots as he made a awesome glove save to keep Agawam at bay. Sam Cedrone went coast to coast for his highlight film goal of the game making it 8-2 while making a spectacular shot. Brendan Ardito moved the puck to Ryan Ackerley who passed it to Derek Gallucci who wasted no time scoring his second of the game with a backhand making it 9-2. James Kourkoutas made two more stops on breakaways as the ice opened up in the middle.

Maura Fiorenza was determined to get in the scoring action as she made shot after shot, hitting the post, before finally nailing the corner for her first of the game making it 10-2. Nathan Alberti's tenacious forechecking created problems for Agawam as Sam Cedrone found himself alone in front for a rebound and his second goal of the game making it 11-2. Evan Munro was all over the ice as he teamed up with Jack Farrell getting the puck to streaking Jimmy McCarron for his first of the game making it 12-2. Sam Cedrone closed the scoring out as he scored giving him a hat trick and a final of 13-2.

Mite 2 White

Saturday morning in the dark and rain, the Wilmington Mite 2-White youth hockey team headed to Merrimack College to battle the Wakefield Mite 2 team. Wilmington played with a crowd pleasing determination but in the end Wakefield took the top spot with a 5-3 win.

Wakefield scored fast and early in the first, but the rest of the period belonged to the Wildcats. Wilmington had consecutive breakaways by forwards Ryan Dusablon, Nate Packer and James Fisher that were all foiled by the Wakefield goaltender. The bright blue puck hardly left the Wakefield end for the remainder of the first period thanks to the quick skates of defensemen Aydan Churchill and Chase Perault.

Wilmington continued to dominate in the second period with the first shots on net coming just 18 seconds in by center Packer followed up by an all-out assault on the net 20 seconds later when Cameron Gagnon passed to Fisher for a goal to put Wilmington on the board. Wakefield tried to make a comeback but was stopped cold by the line of defense being held strong by Joey Cornish and Joey Pastore. The crowd cheered as defensemen Liam Crowley showed his speed and skating skills as he skated circles with the puck around the Wakefield forwards literally spinning them in circles while they tried to stop him.

The second period was not over yet as Wilmington tied it up when forward Keegan Gray set up Patrick Callahan for goal number two. The second period ticked away and the crowd held their breath when with just 45 seconds left, Wakefield had a breakaway that was stopped by an awesome glove save by goaltender Tristan DiMeco.

Wilmington was surprised by two back to back Wakefield goals early in the third period. With the score 4-2, the Wildcats rallied. Wilmington defensemen Perault and Cornish as well as forward Michael Daniels held the Wakefield team at center ice while forward Dusablon had a breakaway goal that brought the Wildcats to within one. This Wilmington team was not done yet as forward Gagnon had a breakaway that was stopped by the quick hands of the Wakefield goalie. Wakefield seemed to get their second wind and after several shots on net stopped by goaltender DiMeco, got lucky and shot a rebounded puck back for another goal.

Coach Dave Crowley was not counting his boys out yet and, with just two minutes left to play, pulled his goalie to add an extra skater. The Wildcats came on fire and never again lost possession of the puck. Callahan and Perault made great tape to tape passes back in to forwards Daniels, Packer, Dusablon and Gray who fought hard and had multiple shots on net that were denied by the quick moving Wakefield goaltender. Our Wilmington Mite 2-White lost 5-3 but made their town proud by never giving up and fighting until the final buzzer.

Squirt 1's

The Wildcat Squirt 1's continue their quick start to the 2011-12 hockey season. The Cats improve to a perfect 5-0 on the season. The Cats trounced the Medford Squirt 1's by a 8-0. In the five games, Wilmington has out paced its opponents by 30-3.

Wilmington Youth Hockey wrap-up

This week's shutout was provided by the combination of Anthony Couzzo and Damian Elkins. The toughest games for a goalie is when there is not much action in the defensive end, but the opponents came their way, they stood tall to the task.

The offense was highlighted by Christian Robarge and JJ Thibert and Drew Miller. Robarge, Miller and Thibert combined for six goals and four assists.

The Wildcats started strong and finished strong as the attack was relentless. One of the biggest reasons the great start has been the unselfish play of the all the players on the ice. The kids are thinking pass, pass, pass and when the best shot becomes available, they bury it.

Kyle Collins and Robarge got things starts as the passed around the offensive zone and laid a pass on the waiting stick of JJ Thibert. Thibert was set up on the right post and sailed the puck of the goalies left shoulder. Next, defenseman Dylan Wargo carried the puck into the offensive zone to set up CoNlin Duffy. The coaching staff has found a offensive spark in CoNlin, who has spent most of his young career manning the blue line.

The third goal of the game was provided by the Thibert to Collins combo. Seconds later, Robarge scored unassisted. A few minutes later Robarge and Collins were at it again.

Into the third period, the defense was keeping the puck out of the net lead by Matt Miller and James Lefave and Matt Pendenza. Nolan Fitzgerald was being the jack of all trades, switching back and forth from left and right wing and even defense in the third period.

The game was finished off by Dean Nally setting up Drew Miller on the final two goals of the game.

The Cats hope to keep the momentum going with a game against Andover at Merrimack College on Friday night and a game against Methuen in Methuen on Sunday. Tickets are selling fast, buy early to catch the Squirt 1 show.

Squirt 2

The Wilmington Youth Hockey Association Squirt 2 team turned the calendar to October with a match against Andover on Saturday afternoon. With a few regulars out of the lineup due to schedule conflicts, the Wildcats welcomed Nolan Vigeant and Brendan Ardito from the Mite 1 squad to help on defense. Justin Crowley, Morgan Vigeant, and Nicholas Farrell rounded out the defense in front of Alex Fitzler in goal. Up front, Zachary Smith started at center between Joseph Hansen and John Spina. Anthony Bowker took the second shift up the middle, with Taylor Padulsky and Max Churchill on the wings. Completing the forward lines, Joseph Hartzell centered Chris Bernazani and Jared Russell.

First period action was evenly matched, with Andover scoring first, but the Wildcats responded with two goals from Jared Russell, both assisted by Chris Bernazani. The quick passing on each play left Andover's goalie with little chance at either shot, and Wilmington carried the lead through the end of the period.

Andover turned the tide in the second, skating with good fundamental positioning and finding some cracks in the Wilmington team defense. Facing several breakaway rushes, Alex Fitzler made a number of sharp saves to keep the game within reach for the Wildcats. But

Andover's improved play resulted in three goals and a 4-2 lead heading to the final period.

Wilmington took up the challenge in the third, with Anthony Bowker scoring unassisted early on and Fitzler continuing to stand tall in net. As the clock ticked down into the final minute the Wildcats made a final push and succeeded. Anthony Bowker scored on a rebound of Jared Russell's shot, tying the game at 4-4 with only 23 seconds remaining. From the final face-off, Wilmington again pressed the play into the offensive zone but couldn't find another goal in time. Coming up with a last second tie in their most competitive match thus far, the young team looks fit for the busy schedule ahead in October.

Papageorgiou records fourth straight shut out

By DAN IGO
Sports Correspondent

Vinny Papageorgiou earned his fourth shutout in a row to help lead the No. 3 nationally ranked Franklin Pierce University men's soccer team to a 1-0 overtime victory over Saint Anselm on Saturday.

Papageorgiou, a senior from Wilmington, made three saves in the shutout win. The Ravens improved to 9-0 overall and 5-0 in the Northeast-10 Conference with the victory. Fellow Wilmington resident Justin Collella was on the other end of the loss, as the senior midfielder is a starter for Saint Anselm. Papageorgiou has been simply superb for the Ravens this season. He has only given up five goals in nine games so far while making 27 saves. Five of his nine wins have been shutouts.

Another game, three more touchdowns for Wilmington's Ernie Mello. However, the senior from WPI saw his squad lose 34-31 to Union College on a last-second field goal. The running back rushed for 91 yards and two TDs and also recovered a blocked punt in the Union end zone for the first score of the day. He scored his second TD of the game early in the second quarter on a 1-yard rush and scored again in the fourth quarter on a 2-yard plunge. Mello's been a monster through five games this season. He's rushed for 529 yards and nine touchdowns and is averaging nearly 106 yards a game.

Tewksbury's Jane Hatzikonstantis continued the unbelievable start to her collegiate soccer career as she posted yet another shutout in UMass Lowell's 1-0 win over Franklin Pierce on Saturday. Hatzikonstantis, a freshman goalkeeper, had five saves in her fifth straight clean sheet of the year. She extended her streak to 470 scoreless minutes. The school and NCAA Division II record for scoreless minutes is at 1,333 and was set two years ago.

Continuing with the freshman goalie shutout theme, Wilmington's Adam Colella earned his second clean sheet of the year in Stonehill's 1-0 win over Saint Michael's on Saturday. The St. John's Prep graduate made one save in the victory. He now boasts a record of 4-3 and has started seven of 10 games for the Skyhawks this season.

Wilmington's Kevin Flaherty delivered a key assist to help the Colby-Sawyer men's soccer team snap a four-game losing streak in its 2-1 win over Thomas on Sunday afternoon. Flaherty, a sophomore defender, delivered a cross in the eighth minute of the game that was put home by his teammate Derek Veilleux. That goal made the game 2-0 and would be the eventual game-winner. His teammate Chris DiCecca, a freshman midfielder from Wilmington, started for Colby-Sawyer and had a shot on goal.

Leah Potcner had seven saves for the Salem State women's soccer team in a 2-2 draw against Framingham State on Saturday. Potcner, a senior captain from Wilmington, has played every minute for Salem State this season. She boasts a record of 4-4-3 and has four shutouts. She has made 51 saves in those 11 games.

Kate McGrath had a relatively easy time in earning her eighth straight win for the Clark University field hockey team in its 7-2 triumph over Anna Maria last Tuesday night. McGrath, a senior goaltender from Wilmington, didn't make any saves in the win and was helped by her offensive teammates, who outshot Anna Maria 32-3 in the game. McGrath was named NEW-MAC Defensive Player of the Week back in September and ranks first in the conference in save percentage.

Tewksbury's Anthony Arcari had five rushes for 31 yards as his Merrimack College football team won another blowout, 58-7, over Saint Anselm. The Warriors compiled a total of 649 yards of offense on the afternoon, the second in the school's history. Arcari, a freshman running back, has rushed the ball 12 times for 62 yards in four games for the Warriors. Merrimack currently stands at 3-1 (2-0 in conference) and plays host to Bentley on Saturday.

Kenny Vassallo of Wilmington was victorious in his singles match for the Saint Michael's men's tennis team in its 7-2 victory over Assumption on Sunday. The junior won his contest 6-2, 6-2 and now boasts a season record of 2-2.

Tewksbury's Jennifer Carr was the only local runner to compete for the UMass Lowell cross-country team in the Codfish Bowl Invitational at Franklin Park in Boston. The senior placed 149th with a time of 22:17.

Four Tewksbury natives posted impressive performances in Sunday's "Brickman Triathlon" in Lawrence. Former TMHS track standout Neil Marino finished in sixth place with an overall time of 56:44. Marc Shapnick's time of 59:50 placed him 13th. Paul Sedgwick finished in 29th place with a time of 1:04:58. Frank Marino was right behind him in 30th place at 1:06:05.

Five Tewksbury and two Wilmington residents competed in the "Trot for Special Tots" 5K race in Andover on Sunday. On the Tewksbury side, Marli Piccolo finished in 12th place with a time of 22:32. Mark Jurgen's time of 24:15 placed him 28th. Devyn Veits ran a time of 24:37 and

Shawsheen Tech Sports Wrap-Up

Rams Boys Soccer team enjoys a winning pair

By MIKE IPPOLITO
Sports Correspondent

The Shawsheen Tech Boys Soccer team may very well have saved their season this past week, with two huge wins to push them closer to the .500 record needed to qualify for the state tournament as they now have a 4-5 record on the season.

The Rams picked up a crucial 3-1 in over Whittier Tech last Tuesday and followed it up with an even more impressive 3-2 home win over Greater Lowell this Tuesday, avenging a 1-0 loss earlier this season.

In the win over Greater Lowell, the Rams got a pair of goals from Mike DiGiorgio of Tewksbury, including the game winner with 13 minutes left in the game and got the game tying goal from fellow Tewksbury resident Nicco Riparo. Senior goalie Robbie Goodell made 14 big saves for the Rams in the win.

In the Whittier win last week, the Rams came out with a bit of a new look as coach Dick Barriss had moved some players around the lineup, most specifically moving DiGiorgio from fullback to forward and moving Riparo from forward back to halfback.

"I had contemplated making the moves and then I finally decided, why not," Barriss said. "We were 2-5 and had been having a hard time scoring so I wanted to try something to get us going."

The moves seemed to pay immediate dividends as both players would score goals on the day as part of the Rams breaking what was then a five game losing streak.

All three Shawsheen goals on the day were the result of great teamwork, with the first coming off a direct kick by Danny Suarez at the ten minute mark of the first half to tie the game at 1-1.

At that point the Rams had been controlling play, but had been unable to get on the board, so the goal was a huge lift for a team that had struggled to score goals all season long.

"That was a great shot by Danny," Barriss said. "Up until then we had not been getting any rewards for some great play so to get that goal was huge for us."

In the second half, the Rams took over against a Whittier team that had won five straight games coming into the contest, getting their first goal when Riparo and DiGiorgio broke free for a 2-on-0 with the Whittier goalie and Riparo popped a shot past him for a 2-1 lead early in the half.

"They made a nice play to get past the last Whittier defender and then Nicco made a nice shot for the goal," Barriss said. "Again, I felt like we had been controlling play so to take the lead at that point was very nice."

The third goal featured some more great teamwork started by fullback T.J. Barriss who made a nice pass up to Joe Czerwinski who then hit DiGiorgio with another great pass. DiGiorgio then used his speed to get past a Whittier defender and beat the goalie for a 3-1 lead that for all intents and purposes put the game away.

"That was a great play all the way around," Barriss said. "If T.J. doesn't make a great play to Joe and Joe doesn't make a great play to Mike it does not happen. And then Mike makes a great play to finish."

The Rams got many outstanding efforts in this one, including strong play from John Fitzpatrick, Nick Antolini, Nick Sheehan, Jake Snook, Brian Gallagher, Mike Biondo and Kyle Fleury.

Junior goalie Andy Sutton of Wilmington made seven saves to earn the victory.

"We don't have that one dominant player so for us to win we need a lot of guys to play well, and we definitely got that against Whittier," Barriss said.

GOLF

The Shawsheen Golf team tuned up for their biggest match of the season with a pair of big Colonial Athletic League victories this week, beating Assabet Valley by a score of 152-166 last Thursday and following that up with a 158-195 win over Worcester Voke on Monday.

The two wins pushed the Rams record to 12-1 overall and 11-1 in the CAL, and coupled with Monty Tech's tie with Nashoba Tech on Monday, it also moved them back into first place as Monty Tech dropped to 9-1-1 in the league.

The Rams main focus then shifted to the State Vocational Tournament being held at Ridder Farms Country Club this Wednesday where the Rams hoped to repeat as champions.

In the win over Worcester Voke on Monday the Rams were led by another strong effort from senior Spencer Sawicki who was the overall medalist with a 37, following up a 38 against Assabet Valley.

Sawicki seems to have found the consistency that had eluded him earlier in the season.

As long as Spencer stays at 40 and under that is very good for him," Shawsheen coach Tom Struthers said. "He had been getting a little down on himself, but now he is feeling much more positive and that is where we need him to be, especially for the voke tournament. He is one of our best."

Another one of the Rams best is senior captain Chris Clayton who carded a 39 against Worcester Voke after firing a 37 against Assabet to take medalist honors in that one.

Other top players against Worcester Voke were senior Dave Johnson with a 40 and junior Scott Denehy with a 43.

In the win over Assabet, along with Clayton and Sawicki's great scores the Rams were also led by Johnson who shot a 38, as well as Nick Maffeo of Tewksbury who shot a 39.

Struthers has been impressed with Maffeo who has filled the number seven slot for the Rams this season and has continued to improve as the year has gone on.

"What a good kid Nick is," Struthers said. "He is one of only two juniors on the team along with Denehy and he has done a great job. He is not a long hitter, but he is a consistent player. This was his first time in the 30's which was terrific and I can see him getting better."

"That just shows he is making improvements. Hopefully he comes back next year and plays even better."

On Wednesday, seniors Clayton, Johnson and Sawicki were set to be joined by Chris Newcomb and sophomore Remy Fletcher in the State Vocational Tournament.

After several near misses the Rams were finally able to capture the voke title last season and Struthers was hoping to see his team do it again.

"We definitely have the capability to win it. We have the kids who can shoot the low scores, but the questions is will we shoot the scores in this match," Struthers said. "We have to be our best. If we play well we have a very good shot at winning it."

FOOTBALL

The Shawsheen Tech Football team saw their record drop to 1-3 on the season last week as they dropped a tough 28-21 road game to Lynn Tech on Saturday night at the Manning Bowl in Lynn.

Despite the loss, in which Lynn Tech scored the winning touchdown on a long run with about four minutes left in the game, the Rams showed continued improvement against a team that had blown out all three of its previous opponents heading into the game.

Shawsheen was led by a couple of outstanding efforts on offense, as junior running back Paul DePlacido ran for 110 yards, while junior quarterback Mike O'Hearn threw for 229 yards and two touchdowns.

"We are improving," Shawsheen coach Al Costabile said. "I thought our offense did a real good job moving the ball and we had a lot of balance on offense. We are progressing as the season goes on."

Shawsheen got on the board first when senior running back Brian Ward scored on a two yard run, and junior Devon Pratt added the first of his three extra points on the night for a 7-0 lead early in the first quarter.

Lynn Tech came right back, however, when quarterback Kennedy Gomes connected with D.J. Ward on a 67 yard pass to pull within 7-6 after the missed extra point.

Gomes put the Tigers on top with a 14 yard run in the second quarter and then he passed for the two point conversion to Jason Grant for a 14-7 Lynn Tech lead.

But just as Lynn Tech had fought back, so too did the Rams with O'Hearn connecting with Pratt for an 11 yard touchdown pass later in the quarter to send the teams to the half tied at 14-14.

Pratt would finish the day with five catches for 108 yards.

Once again it was the big play that gave Lynn Tech the lead in the third quarter when Gomes connected with Ward again, this time for 53 yards and a 21-14 lead.

Gomes is just a sophomore and Costabile knows he will be a force to be reckoned with in the CAC for the next few years.

"The kids just threw a couple of great balls," Costabile said. "He is a real talented kid and he is a future superstar in this league. Teams are going to have trouble containing him."

Shawsheen tied the game early in the fourth quarter when O'Hearn hit tight end Jared Pinette with a 22 yard scoring pass, on of three catches on the night for Pinette who would finish the with 72 yards receiving.

In the end, however, it was Gomes who would seal the Rams fate. After killing them all night long with his arm, he sealed their fate with his legs as he broke free for a 46 yard touchdown run with about four minutes left in the game.

The Rams tried to mount one final comeback, but were unable to get the tying score as they dropped a hard fought and well played game.

The Rams will look to get back on the winning track when they host CAC Lower Division rival Chelsea on Saturday afternoon at 1:30.

Chelsea brings a 2-1 record into the game, with consecutive wins over Trinity Catholic (41-0) and Greater Lawrence (10-6). They had opened their season with a 32-8 loss at the hands of Lynn Tech.

Shawsheen beat Chelsea last year on the road in a shootout by a score of 42-32, scoring 16 fourth quarter points to come away with the win, and Costabile knows his team has to be prepared for another tough games this season.

"Chelsea is always a big test for us and I don't think this week will be any different," Costabile said. "They always match up well with us and we will have to continue to improve our effort from what we did against Lynn Tech if we are going to win."

CROSS COUNTRY

Both the Boys and Girls Cross Country teams at Shawsheen improved to 6-0 last week with impressive home wins over CAC rival Lynn Tech. The boys won by a score of 15-49, while the girls were slightly even better with a 15-50 victory.

The Boys team took none of the top ten spots against the Tigers, while the Girls squad took all ten.

In the boys meet, the Rams were led by Ryan Tirabassi, who covered the 3.12 mile course in a time of 19:22. Tirabassi was followed closely by second place finisher Matt Mann in a time of 19:44.

Dan Boudreau took third place for Shawsheen in a time of 20:24, followed by Richard Silk in fourth in a time of 20:35. Cam Murphy rounded out the top five for Shawsheen in a time of 20:37.

Hunter Bradanese was sixth in a time of 20:38, and after Lynn Tech took seventh place, Keenan Goodwin resumed the Rams dominance with an eighth place finish in a time of 20:57.

Coltin Urro was ninth in a time of 20:58, while Alex Hogan rounded out the top ten, finishing in 20:59.

On the girls side, it was Kathleen Silk leading a pack of Rams to the finish line, taking first place in a time of 25:03 0:08:02, while Allyson Delano was a close second in a time of 25:14.

Christen Aliperta was third for Shawsheen in a time of 26:06, with Amanda Leonard nipping at her heels in a time of 26:09 in fourth place. Taylor Lynch rounded out the top five for Shawsheen in a time of 0:27:19 0:08:45.

The next five for the Lady Rams were Jenn Thomas in a time of 29:09, Megan Lynch at 29:10, Haley Lynch in 29:19, Amanda Lewis in 0:29:27, and Shannon Belski in 30:26.

GIRLS SOCCER

The Shawsheen Girls soccer team continued their great season this week, picking up three more wins to improve to 8-0 on the year. The Lady Rams began their week with a 7-0 win over Whiter last Thursday and followed that up with a 5-0 victory over PMA Methuen on Monday and a 4-1 win over North Shore on Tuesday.

In the win over North Shore, Shawsheen got a pair of goals from junior forward Ari Medeiros of Tewksbury, along with one goal each from Rachel McLaren of Wilmington and Nicole Woodward.

While most of the Lady Rams wins this season have been of the blowout variety, North Shore hung with Shawsheen for a stretch in this one, trailing only 2-1 late in the first half before Shawsheen extended their lead to 3-1 at the half and added another insurance goal in the second half.

"We have a lot of confidence in ourselves and sometimes that can work against us," Shawsheen coach Doug Michaud said. "We scored two goals early and I think we thought it would be another blowout, but they came right back with a goal. It was a good lesson for us. It was the first time a team had been within a goal of us like that."

Michaud was not at all surprised to see Medeiros lead the way in scoring, as she has made it her mission as of late to get the Lady Rams off to a good start.

"She gets into a game and she kind of knows that at some point we might have to let up if it is a blowout so she is determined to get us on the board quickly," Michaud said. "She goes for it right away. She is a very good player. Having her at forward like that has been great for us. She is not afraid to take on two players at once."

Jen Curtis made ten saves in net to earn the win for Shawsheen.

In the win over PMA, Shawsheen got goals from five different players including senior Marissa Irwin and freshman Emily Irwin of Tewksbury, senior defender Sabrina Gomes, Medeiros and Curtis.

"It's great to see that kind of balance and to see some kids who don't always score be able to get a goal," Michaud said. "When kids are contributing all the time it is nice to be able to get them a goal if we can."

In the 7-0 win over Whittier last Thursday it was the McLaren sisters who led the way with both Rachel and Rebecca potting a pair of goals.

Michaud has loved seeing the sister combination work together to put up big points.

"Rebecca had scored a lot at JV, but I did not know how much she would be able to score at the varsity level, but she has been great. She has a quick shot and has become a great scorer," Michaud said. "I think part of the reason might be Rachel who is a great passer. The two of them work really well together. Rachel is the type of player I can put anywhere on the field and she will do well for us."

After a game with Chelsea on Thursday the Lady Rams will get ready for a rematch with rival Greater Lowell next Tuesday. Shawsheen beat Greater Lowell 8-1 in the season opener, but Michaud does not expect it to be as easy this time against a Gryphons team that now sports a 7-2 overall record.

"We are ready to take them on again. It will be a good way to gauge where we stand," Michaud said. "Greater Lowell is usually much tougher to play against as the year goes on and we know it will be much tougher this time."

VOLLEYBALL

The Shawsheen Volleyball team clinched a spot in the Division 3 North Tournament by picking up two more wins this week, improving their record to 10-2 overall.

Shawsheen was dominant in both of their wins, winning both by 3-0 scores. They started the week by routing Nashoba Tech on Monday in a road match, winning games by scores of 25-17, 25-13 and 23-13. They followed up that win by dominating Northeast by an even wider margin at home, winning by scores of 25-7, 25-9, and 25-9.

Junior setter Taylor Simas was the star of the week for the lady Rams, with eight service points and six assists in the win over Nashoba Tech and 17 service points against Northeast.

Stephanie Champoux was also outstanding all week for the lady Rams, with eight service points and four kills against Nashoba Tech and eleven service points and three kills against Northeast.

D1 Pop Warner team emerges with a victory

Behind Peter Marino and Bailey Smith, the Wilmington D1 Pop Warner Football team celebrated a 27-6 victory over the Burlington Patriots on Sunday at the Glen Road field. The win pushed the Wildcats to 4-0 at the mid-point of the season and into sole possession of first place in the Middlesex league standings. The Wildcat ground attack punished the Burlington defense all day as the team ran for 229 yards on 30 carries. John Kenney had another fantastic game with 185 yards rushing on 17 carries. He also scored a game high four touchdowns on runs of 20, 68, 44 and 18 yards respectively. In addition to his crushing blocks from his fullback spot, Kyle Penny carried the ball seven times for 37 yards with most of his runs right into the heart of the Burlington defense. The Kenney and Penny tandem accounted for 222 rushing yards on the day.

The Wildcats opened the game with a 22 yard off-tackle run by Kenney behind his dominant offensive line led by Mark Companschi and Kyle Kenyon at guard, Pat McAndrew, Dominic Ardizonni and Tommy Strow at tackle, Joey Dumoulin and Bailey Smith at tight end and David Fraser anchoring the line at Center. Four plays later, the Wildcats got on the board after a 20 yard touchdown run by Kenney. The ensuing PAT was no good so the Wildcats had to settle for a 6-0 lead.

The Wildcat defense took the field and played lights out. Linebackers Companschi (five tackles and a forced fumble), Dumoulin (seven tackles) and Penny (five tackles) set the tone and stifled the running attack for the Patriots.

On the next possession, the Wildcat offense struggled a bit losing yards on three of their next five plays but on 2nd and 20, the Wildcats went back to their power running and Kenney took off for a 68 yard touchdown run. Instead of trying to run in for the extra point, the Wildcats decided to throw for the PAT and quarterback Andrew Sullivan completed the pass to Tight End Ryan Brewer for the conversion and a 13-0 lead. It was the second time in two weeks that the Sullivan-Brewer tandem resulted in an extra point through the air.

On the next defensive series, the Wildcats surrendered their first touchdown of the season on a 45 yard pass play. The PAT attempt was stuffed by the Wildcat defense and the score stood at 13-6.

That was only the first score given up by the Wildcats this season and it was the last time Burlington would score all day. The Wildcats did not score on their next possession and the Patriots came out for their third series of the game. This time the Wildcats were ready. Defensive tackles Kyle Kenyon, Sam Vince, Nick Kullman, Bailey Smith, Brett Chisholm and Ethan Dipentino clogged up the middle for the Wildcat defense while defensive ends Justin Fraser (5.5 tackles) and Frankie Irizarry (two tackles) as well as corner backs Michael Ducharme (three tackles) and Michael Daley (two tackles) shut down the outside attack for the Patriots. Kenyon also recorded a sack and a tackle-for-loss on the day.

After the defensive stop, the Wildcats offense returned to the field and did not take long to strike. John Kenney rushed for his third touchdown of the half, taking the first down play 44 yards into the end zone. Kenney's PAT put the Wildcats on top 20-6.

The Wilmington Pop Warner B team, including from left, Jake Luz, Charlie Minghella, David Bailey, and Stephen Bowker, honored Breast Cancer Awareness month by wearing pink eyeblack and pink shoe laces which were provided by Team Mom Janice Bowker and Team Coach Bob Jones.

The Wildcats kicked off to start the second half and again shut down the Burlington offense. After taking over possession of the ball, the Wildcats started to pound it up the middle with fullbacks Kyle Penny, Bailey Smith and Peter Marino taking the majority of the hand-offs. After three consecutive six yard runs, a key play on the drive was a quick pass from Sullivan to Smith for an 11 yard gain and a first down that kept the Wildcats driving. The drive concluded with an 18 yard touchdown run by Kenney, his fourth of the day, to put the Wildcats on top. On the PAT, the Wildcats went back to the ground and running back Peter Marino barreled his way into the end zone to put the Wildcats on top 27-6. The PAT was Marino's second in the last two games and it served as an exclamation point on a strong offensive outing for the Wildcats.

The Wildcats hit the midway point of the season 4-0 and in first place in the Middlesex league. Defensively, the Wildcats are powered by a dominant line-backer group led by Joey Dumoulin (16 tackles), Kyle Penny (13 tackles), and Mark Companschi (11 tackles, 1 forced fumble). Andrew Sullivan and Peter Marino have also recorded six tackles between them on the season. Sullivan and Michael Daley also have interceptions for the Wildcat defense.

Michael Ducharme (11 tackles) and Michael Daley (8 tackles) have locked the field down at corner while John Kenney (two tackles) helps to round out a dominant secondary. On the defensive line, Justin Fraser and Kyle Kenyon lead the way with two sacks apiece while Frankie Irizarry, Nick Kullman and Brett Chisholm each have a sack on the season.

E Team

The Wilmington E Team played a Tough Burlington Team this past Sunday. The Burlington Patriots opened the game with a 15 play scoring drive, but the Wildcats snuffed out the extra point with the gang tackling of Aaron Danciewicz, Keegan Gray, Mikey Hersom, Jack Rooney, Tyler Cardello, Jeandre Abel, Billy Doumoulin and Shane Roberts. The Wildcats answered on their first position. Adam Leblanc banged the ball up the middle on two consecutive misdirection plays for 20 yards. The offensive line of Mark Valante, Steven Smolinsky, Nico Piazza, Derek Gallucci, Ryan Leblanc, Jerry Copson, and Hugh Murphy paved the way for Leblanc.

The drive ended with Brian Gallucci running a 15 yard quarterback keeper for his 10th touchdown of the season. Adam Leblanc added the extra point with a huge push from Abel, Roberts, Danciewicz, Rooney, Mason Glover, Shane Penney and Brady Robbins.

Burlington would score on their next possession. The Wilmington E Team put together another scoring drive with Sean Riley running a 60 yard reverse and out running the entire Burlington Defense for his second TD of the year. The blocking of Derek Gallucci, Copson, Cardello, Smolinsky, Penney, and Murphy made the run possible. Brian Gallucci added the extra. The Wildcats would hold Burlington on its next drive, the relentless defensive of Hersom, Gray, Glover, Leblanc, Robbins, Derek Gallucci, Piazza, Valente, Doumoulin stopped the Burlington Patriots on downs.

Legislative Redistricting

Minority Leader Jones weighs in on redrawing the lines

By PAUL FEELY

In the next few weeks, Massachusetts voters will learn which of the state's 10 Congressional districts will be done away with, after data collected as part of the 2010 U.S. Census showed that Massachusetts population has grown at a slower rate than other states, requiring the loss of a seat in Congress and shifting the state's representation from ten seats to nine.

One local state legislator has played a key part over the past few months in the deliberative process to determine who should stay and who should go, with House Minority Leader Brad Jones (R-North Reading) serving on the Special Joint Committee on Redistricting.

Last spring, Jones appointed himself to be one of the Republicans to serve on the committee, believing his knowledge of the process would come in handy over the weeks and months to come. He is one of 20 House members serving on the committee.

"I served on the redistricting committee ten years ago," said Jones. "Of course, we weren't looking at doing away with a Congressional district at that time, but I felt like the institutional knowledge I could offer would be valuable."

Jones represents the 20th Middlesex District, which includes North Reading, and parts of Reading, Lynnfield and Middleton.

After the release of the U.S. Decennial Census, Massachusetts is constitutionally mandated to change its State Representative, State Senate, Governor's Council and Congressional district boundaries to accommodate shifts in population and provide equal representation to its citizens.

Reapportionment refers to the process of assigning seats in the United States House of Representatives among the fifty states. Every ten years, the U.S. Census Bureau uses a formula based on population to calculate the apportionment of these seats. This method has been used in every census since 1940.

After apportionment, it is up to individual states to redraw their Congressional districts to account for any changes.

The population of Massachusetts has grown at a slower rate than others, requiring the loss of a seat in Congress and shifting the state's representation from ten seats to nine.

Redistricting is the process of redrawing legislative district boundaries from which public officials are elected. Redistricting in Massachusetts takes place after the release of the Decennial Census data.

The Decennial Census

The Decennial Census counts every resident of the United States. It has been conducted in years ending in "0" since 1790, as required by Article I, Section 2 of the U.S. Constitution.

In Massachusetts, the state legislature is responsible for redistricting according to the Massachusetts Constitution. All new districts must be voted on and then approved by the House, Senate and Governor.

Once approved, the new Congressional, State Senate, Council and State Representative districts will become effective for the 2012 election cycle.

Since last spring, Rep. Jones has served on the Special Joint Committee on Redistricting. The charge of the committee is "to develop legislation for the redistricting of congressional, state representative, state senatorial, and governor's councillor districts for the Commonwealth that meet all applicable constitutional and legal standards and to recommend plans for such districts to the Legislature in a timely fashion so as to permit deliberation and enactment by the Legislature in a timely manner for the 2012 state and federal elections."

Jones and fellow committee members held a series of hearings across the state to receive input from voters on the redistricting issue.

"We held them in all four corners of the state, all areas of the state really," said Jones. "In all, I think there were 12 or 13 hearings. I didn't make it to all of them, but I made it to as many as I could."

Some of the initial hearings featured testimony from individuals apparently unclear on the purpose of the discussion.

"We would hear from people asking us not to drop a Congressional district, or not to make any changes to the districts," said Jones. "That question had already been asked and answered. There is no way you could look at the results that came in and come up with any other conclusion. There will be changes."

What the committee must decide by the next state election is how to change the district map. This is a difficult process because each region of the state has an interest in keeping its representation in the U.S. Congress.

Committee chairman Stanley Rosenberg explains the process in a letter posted on his Web site: "On paper, the committee's task looks relatively simple: We must draw a map that leaves each of the state's 40 senators with a district of about 164,000 people; each of the state's 160 representatives with a district of about 41,000 people; and nine Congressional districts each with as close to 727,514 people as reasonably possible. All this must be done in time for the 2012 elections. The committee will work hard to configure districts in such a way so that voters will have a fair opportunity to elect Congressional and state representatives and state senators of their choice."

Jones said the Commonwealth should see the fruits of the committee's efforts in the near future.

"All the testimony and data has been received," said Jones. "I would expect that if not by the end of this week, then next week, we should see

Movie Reviews

by Paul Feely

"50/50" DEEPLY MOVING

"50/50" IS INSPIRED BY A TRUE STORY. Joseph Gordon-Levitt and Seth Rogen star as best friends whose lives are changed by a cancer diagnosis. It is the story of a guy's transformative, and sometimes funny, journey to health.

"50/50"
GRADE: ***

Inspired by a true story, 50/50 is a story about friendship, love, survival and finding humor in unlikely places.

Joseph Gordon-Levitt and Seth Rogen star as best friends whose lives are changed by a cancer diagnosis in this new comedy directed by Jonathan Levine, from a script by Will Reiser. 50/50 is the story of a guy's transformative and sometimes funny journey to health - drawing its emotional core from Will Reiser's own experience with cancer and reminding us that friendship and love, no matter what bizarre turns they take, are the greatest healers.

"50/50" tries hard to be a romance and buddy flick, a comedy and cancer drama. The movie will likely be a huge crowd-pleaser, if the crowd can get past the whole cancer thing. Cancer movies are typically sad affairs, but "50/50" contains more than enough humor to ease the sadness - with characters you end up caring about, giving the story some drama. The jokes mix perfectly with deep thoughts like 'Will I be alive this time next year? Or even tomorrow?'

Gordon-Levitt is Adam, a neat-freak NPR reporter who gets a scary form of cancer. His performance is effortless, and perfect - if it doesn't garner nods during the awards season, then a great injustice has been committed.

Adam's best friend Kyle is played by Seth Rogen. He thinks his friend's cancer provides a great chance for both of them to get women. He's not as much of an oaf as that description might make you think. Instead, there are several scenes where he shows he is a far more likable than you may expect.

Adam's new love interest is played by Anna Kendrick, in a role similar to the one she had in "Up in the Air" with George Clooney.

Screenwriter Will Reiser based the movie on his own experiences with cancer, and in real life Rogen was one of the friends who lived through it with him.

The movie doesn't hit you over the head with any big moments regarding cancer and those that live with the disease. There's plenty you can take away from the film in that category if you are looking for it, but you aren't forced to swallow any Big Messages. If all you are looking for is a sweet, sometimes funny movie about characters you will care about, this is the movie for you.

I was deeply moved by it.

"MONEYBALL"
GRADE: ***

Far more than 'just another baseball movie' (and based on a true story), Moneyball is a movie for anybody who has ever dreamed of taking on the system.

Brad Pitt stars as Billy Beane, the general manager of the Oakland A's and the guy who assembles the team, who has an epiphany: all of baseball's conventional wisdom is wrong.

Forced to reinvent his team on a tight budget, Beane will have to outsmart the richer clubs. The one-time jock, who had dreams of playing in the majors himself, teams with Ivy League grad Peter Brand (Jonah Hill) in an unlikely partnership, recruiting bargain players that scouts call flawed or washed up, but all of whom have an ability to get on base, score runs, and win games.

It's more than baseball, it's a revolution - one that challenges old school traditions and puts Beane in the crosshairs of those who say he's tearing out the heart and soul of the game.

The unlikely pairing of Pitt and Hill drive what is the most compelling and insightful baseball-themed film since Robert Redford's homerun shattered the stadium lights in "The Natural", way back in 1984.

"Moneyball" (based on a 2003 novel by Michael Lewis) takes an interesting, and humorous, look into the business side of America's pastime.

In 2002, after the cash-strapped A's lose to the heavily favored New York Yankees in the 2001 American League Division Series, Oakland then loses its three best players to free agency. Beane teams up with Brand (Hill), a genius when it comes to determining the value of baseball statistics. Together they go against the grain of standard baseball wisdom and begins revamping the team using an analytical/mathematical approach, much to the chagrin of the organization's more traditionally minded scouting department. As the A's get off to a rough start, naysayers are quickly ridiculing Beane's unconventional decisions and calling for his ouster.

To complicate things, manager Art Howe (Philip Seymour Hoffman) refuses to make the lineup changes Beane insists upon, causing a further rift in the clubhouse. But Beane's persistence and Brand's belief in the statistical approach transforms the team into a true contender as it goes on a 20-game win streak.

"DRIVE"
GRADE: ***

Some of the plot elements in the new action thriller 'Drive' may not add up, but overall the sum of the parts equals better-than-average action entertainment.

Ryan Gosling stars as a Los Angeles wheelman for hire (the character has no name, and is simply listed as Driver in the credits), stunt driving for movie productions by day and steering getaway vehicles for armed heists by night. Though a loner by nature, Driver can't help falling in love with his beautiful neighbor Irene (Carey Mulligan), a vulnerable young mother dragged into a dangerous underworld by the return of her ex-convict husband Standard (Oscar Isaac).

After a heist intended to pay off Standard's protection money spins unpredictably out of control, Driver finds himself driving defense for the girl he loves, tailgated by a syndicate of deadly serious criminals. But when he realizes that the gangsters are after more than the bag of cash in his trunk - that they're coming straight for Irene and her son - Driver is forced to shift gears and go on offense.

Nicolas Winding Refn directed this film, which is very reminiscent of several past gems of the same genre, such as 'The Killing' and 'Blade Runner' (especially the chase scenes at night).

Gosling plays a not-exactly-likable loner who works as a garage mechanic by day, doing his stunt work by night. He is very picky about his after-dark schedule, turning down jobs he deems to be too messy.

Things change when his garage boss (played by Bryan Cranston of Breaking Bad) wants him to drive a race car sponsored by a shady individual, played by Albert Brooks.

Along the way, Driver meets and becomes involved with his neighbor Irene, portrayed by the talented Carey Mulligan.

When Irene's husband returns from prison, he and Driver become involved in a heist at a pawnshop. This sets up the film's showdown, where Driver shows he can do more than put the pedal to the metal.

The opening getaway scene in Drive is one of the best car chases you will ever see on film. It's not all about screeching tires and near-crashes, but plays out as a tense game of cat-and-mouse with Gosling avoiding the LAPD not only with his driving skill, but his brains.

It's a must see for action fans, and brings the car-chase movie back to a level of coolness it hasn't had for a few years.

Civil War walk at Laurel Hill Cemetery

The Civil War started on April 13, 1861 with the attack on Ft. Sumter. Have you ever wondered about Reading's involvement in the Civil War? Great numbers of our citizens served, and many died of injuries or disease.

Of those that died, some never came home, but others are buried at Laurel Hill Cemetery.

As part of the ongoing commemoration of the 150th Anniversary of the "Great Rebellion" on Saturday, October 15, the Reading Antiquarian Society will lead two walks at the cemetery.

One will be at 10 AM and the other will be at 2 PM. The information will be the same at both, just choose the one that best fits your schedule.

Meet at the main gate on Lowell St., next to the Old South Methodist Church.

About the Towns

by Phyllis Nissen

LOCAL SPARKLERS LIGHT THE WAY

from the wires," notes the Tewksbury "Town Crier."

"They came from his heart.

"Most of the updates and additions made to the food pantry - since the move to its current location in 1995 - have been the work of Callahan. He installed a new generator, shelving, mapped the electrical system, put in new exit signs. Had the pantry lacked a generator, then most of the food would have been spoiled during the Hurricane Irene power outage.

"Pantry volunteers remain forever grateful.

"It's hard to put what he does into words," said Jim Carter, a food pantry board member. "He's the backbone of everything here."

"He just doesn't stop," said Carter.

"It shows.

"Carter recalled a time when Wal-Mart had donated older shopping carts to the food pantry. Callahan felt that they weren't acceptable, so he called the district manager and informed him of his desire for newer ones.

"His candor impressed, and the carts were sent over right away.

"Callahan was also instrumental in getting the food pantry's new addition completed. So, the Tewksbury Food Pantry decided to express its gratitude by naming the wing in his honor. A plaque, too, will be placed commemorating Callahan - as well as others who were instrumental in the development of the pantry.

"The plaque will honor Robert Hogan, Jim Mendonca, Sr., Jean Holmes, Sandra Geddy, Gordon Bryant, Mark Wood, and Bernard Shea.

"Food Pantry Board of Directors Chairman Todd

Johnson referred to them as 'the founding fathers of the food pantry'...

"We all appreciate everything Mike's done," said Bob Doyle, a food pantry board member. "We wanted to show him in a small way how much he means to us."

"We decided unanimously to name the addition the 'Mike Callahan Wing.' We wanted to recognize his selfless service to the Tewksbury community," said Johnson...

'REVOLVING' ENERGY IN WINCHESTER

"Winchester has a lot of energy, just not as much as it used to," notes the Winchester edition of the "Daily Times Chronicle."

"Energy usage has decreased 70 percent over the last six years, according to the Energy Management Committee. Energy costs have stayed the same, but thanks to the decreased usage the total cost for the town is less (it paid just over $2M in FY11)...

"The town is saving money in its energy revolving fund, as well. In FY11 it saved $38,700 with lighting motion sensors at McCall, Lynch, Muraco, and Mystic schools. In FY12 it will save $25,700 with lighting motion sensors at the Lincoln School. In FY13 it will save $45,000 thanks to a partial fund of natural gas transition at McCall School.

"The selectmen approved those savings."

'ACCEPTING THE CHALLENGE' - READING

"The Reading/North Reading Chamber of Commerce encourages everyone to BUY LOCAL and reinvest back into the community through job creation, taxes and charitable donations."

noted the Reading edition of the "Daily Times Chronicle" in an effort to remind everyone recently to buy local during a special weekend just past, brought to fruition by Reading Girl Scout Troop 73712, The Hitching Post on Haven Street, and Gregory's on Main Street through a "Sights of Reading" calendar.

"LOCAL Girl Scouts have taken photographs of LOCAL Reading sights, had the calendar printed at a LOCAL business, The Graphics Shop, are distributing the calendar at LOCAL businesses, Gregory's and The Hitching Post, depositing their profits at a LOCAL bank, The Reading Co-op and will be using the monies to fund LOCAL community service projects..."

Grace Stroman, Kasey Cook and Mary Kate Kelley, the scouts behind this project, asked residents to 'Join the Movement and Keep Your Town Alive to Thrive.'

Stroman, Cook, and Kelley were working toward the Gold Award, the highest and most distinguished award any Girl Scout can earn and is meant to help develop a scout as a leader and make a mark on the community that creates a lasting impact on the lives of others....

•MIDDLESEX EAST SPORTS WEEKLY TRIVIA:

The Nordiques franchise moved in 1995. What is the name of the current NHL franchise that was formerly the Nordiques?

Answer appears elsewhere in this column.

•Fourth-ranked UMass Lowell field hockey tied the program record with 10 goals in a shutout victory over Assumption at Cushing Field. SOPHOMORE RACHEL MCCARTHY (READING, MASS.) scored a career-high four goals in the 10-0 victory.

The single-game record for goals was originally set in 1979, but was tied twice last season. The River Hawks improve to 8-1 overall and 2-0 in Northeast-10 play, while the Greyhounds' struggles continue as they fall to 1-7 on the season and 1-3 in conference action.

For the second time this weekend, UMass Lowell scored six times in the first half to pull away from its opponent early.

The River Hawks hit the ground running, scoring their first goal at 1:12 into play. On a corner play, senior Sarah Wilcox's (Old Town, Maine) shot was saved, but classmate Abby Auld (Waltham, Mass.) knocked in the rebound to assume a 1-0 lead.

The action kept up as McCarthy scored her ninth goal of the year at 3:30. McCarthy delivered the penalty corner to senior Annie Hansbury (Plaistow, N.H.), who sent the pass back low to McCarthy for the goal.

Kayla Littig (Carver, Mass.) then followed suit at 9:17, scoring her fourth of the season. The senior defender carried the ball into the circle and down to the left side, and then smacked a back-hander between the goalkeeper's legs to push the lead to three.

As the momentum began to snowball, Auld scored her second of the game at 18:46. Much like her first goal, Wilcox put a shot on net that was saved and Auld was there for the rebound score.

The River Hawks picked up two more tallies as the half wound down. The first came as McCarthy entered the circle on the far side and fired a shot into the fray that hit a defender's stick and deflected into the mesh at 23:40.

Sophomore Ali Ferraro (Kingston, N.Y.) closed out the half with her seventh score of the season. The speedy forward carried the ball from half field, all the way into the circle where she launched a shot that zipped past the goalkeeper on the far side.

The scoring frenzy slowed down to open play in the second half as the game yielded nothing for the first 20 minutes. McCarthy broke that silence with a successful penalty shot at 55:04 to give her back-to-back hat tricks, recording the first of her career on Friday against Lindenwood.

McCarthy struck again in the 59th minute, slipping a shot under the goalkeeper for her fourth of the game and 12th of the season.

Leading 8-0, UMass Lowell's offense took a balanced approach over the final ten minutes. Freshman Kristina Krull (Leicester, Mass.) scored her second career goal at 64:32, tipping Auld's shot into traffic.

Finally, the River Hawks

last tally of the day came off of the stick of sophomore Janelle DeCamillis (Littleton, Mass.) at 68:05. On a penalty corner, McCarthy ripped a shot to the left and DeCamillis slide underneath the defense for the tip.

For the day, sophomore goalkeeper Melanie Hopkins (Harwich, Mass.) recorded her third shutout of the season, but did not make a save as UMass Lowell's defense held Assumption to one wide attempt. The win improved Hopkins' record to 8-1 overall.

The Greyhounds used a pair of goalkeepers, Kristen Manchester (East Sandwich, Mass.) and Heather Philbrick (Kennebunkport, Maine). Manchester (1-2) got the start and made 18 saves while allowing seven goals. She was relieved in the 58th minute by Philbrick who stopped three-of-six shots.

For the weekend, McCarthy scored seven goals and two assists for an astounding 16 points. She now leads the NE-10 with 31 points overall (12g, 7a).

•Need some help with the trivia question? It's not the Phoenix Coyotes.

•Freshman Chelsey Pepin (Derry, N.H.) placed 45th in the women's race while freshman Justin Reddy (Methuen, Mass.) placed 66th in the men's race to lead the UMass Lowell women's and men's cross country teams at the Codfish Bowl Invitational at Franklin Park.

With only four runners on both sides, neither the UMass Lowell women or men figured into the team scoring. Boston University, with 47 points, captured the women's race while Bates College scored 49 points to win the men's title.

Pepin covered the 5K course in 20 minutes, 21 seconds while freshman Jillian Baillargeon (Methuen, Mass.) placed 126th in 21:52 and SENIOR JENNIFER CARR (TEWKSBURY, MASS.) 149th in 22:17.

FRESHMAN JULIE RAFFERTY (STONEHAM, MASS.) capped the women's effort in 209th with a time of 24:31. The women's race drew 286 runners representing 23 colleges.

Reddy ran the 8K course in 27:51 while sophomore Zach Schaeffer (Hudson, Mass.) finished 133rd in 29:30 and freshman Kyle White (BillERICA, Mass.) 144th in 29:49. Freshman Colin MacIsaac (Hampstead, N.H.) finished 148th in 29:53.

The men's race consisted of 286 runners representing 26 teams.

•SENIOR MOHAMMED SAEED (WOBURN, MASS.) scored the lone goal in the 48th minute to lead UMass Lowell over the University of New Haven, 1-0, in a Northeast-10 Conference men's soccer clash at Cushing Field.

The win was the second straight for UMass Lowell, which improved to 3-4-0 overall and 3-2-0 in the NE-10.

New Haven dropped to 0-5-2 overall and 0-4-0 in the Conference.

Saeed scored the winner three minutes into the second half when sophomore M Daniel Galvin (Attleboro, Mass.) slipped a through-ball through the New Haven defense in the path of Saeed, who deftly chipped over New Haven goalkeeper J.J. Comeau.

The goal, the first of a host of chances in a remarkably improved second half, proved to be all the River Hawks needed. Saeed and Galvin, along with junior M Bruno Bonicontro (Marlboro, Mass.), combined well and consistently caused problems for the Chargers the entire second half.

a map showing the new legislative districts for the state, but not necessarily the Congressional districts."

This will mark the start of the approval process for those districts. Jones said that an announcement on which Congressional district will be dropped could come as soon as the end of October.

"It's been very challenging," said Jones. "I'm not privy to any information some of the Democratic members may or may not have about who is running for reelection and who doesn't intend to, but has yet to make an announcement. Having that information of course would make the decision much easier."

Jones has served in the state legislature for the past 17 years, since his election to the House of Representatives in 1994.

Over that time Jones has seen changes to his own district a few times.

"When I was first elected, I had all of Reading, North Reading, and some of Lynnfield for a time," said Jones. "Then two precincts in Reading went to Rep. Paul Casey, and I picked up North Andover. Then another redistricting came along, and I lost another Reading precinct, lost North Andover, but gained parts of Lynnfield and Middleton. It's like I've had three different districts."

Jones, a North Reading native, lives in his hometown with his wife Linda and two young children. After graduating from North Reading High School in 1983, he spent time working in the school system as a tutor and substitute teacher before attending The Johns Hopkins University. He received his associate's and bachelor's degrees from Harvard University Extension School in 1987 and 1988, and then entered public service in his hometown.

Jones became a member of the North Reading Housing Authority in 1988 and served until 1992, when he joined the town's Finance Committee. In 1993, Jones was elected to the North Reading Board of Selectmen, and served two terms on the board. He acted as the board's chairman from 1995 to 1998. In 1999, he rejoined the Finance Committee and remained a member until 2002.

In 1994 he was elected to the House of Representatives. In 2002, he was elected House Republican Leader. Today, he continues to serve as the highest ranking Republican in House leadership.

During his time at the State House, Jones has served on numerous committees, including the Committees on Commerce and Labor, Housing and Urban Development, Federal Financial Assistance, Local Affairs and Ways and Means. He was the ranking member of the Committee on Election Laws.

Send your photos in to the Middlesex East Photo Contest by October 19th

Entries continue to pour in for the 2011 Middlesex East Photo Contest. So be alert shutterbugs and capture some great moments to share with Middlesex East readers.

The above photo of Patrick Scanlon slam dunking in the pool was sent in by Paula Mastro of North Reading.

Middlesex East is sponsoring the region-wide photo contest during the months of September and October to find some of the most original and creative photos from local residents.

People are encouraged to enter both print and e-mail photos which will be judged by a select group of judges with prizes going to the first three winners.

Last year the contest was restricted to the Reading Edition of the Daily Times Chronicle but it was so successful, the decision was made to expand it to the ten towns.

The rules are simple. Photos must include: name of photographer, address, phone number and ID of persons in the photo. Persons can enter more than once but each photo must be identified separately. They can be mailed as prints to Middlesex East at P.O. Box 240, Reading MA 01867 or emailed as a jpg document via the internet to MiddlesexEast@comcast.net. They should be sent as a jpg document.

Original photos will be retained and every effort will be made to return them to the owners.

The Middlesex East will publish select photos over the next several weeks but these will not influence the judges decisions. Judges will include professional photographers from the Middlesex East staff and other select individuals from the region.

The deadline for entering is Wednesday, October 19 and winners will be announced Wednesday, October 26nd in Middlesex East. Prizes will include a $50.00 Gift Certificate to Lucci's Supermarket, plus a $35.00 Gift Certificate to Lashi's Hair Stylists and a $25.00 Gift Certificate to Scoreboard Bar and Grill.

Once submitted Middlesex East retains the right to publish photos throughout the contest dates.

Easy ways to boost home value

Though the housing market might not be booming, there are still buyers out there looking for a place to call their own. Some potential sellers might prefer a patient approach to selling their homes, choosing to do so when the market rebounds and homes regain some of their lost value. Other sellers might not have a choice and must make due with selling in a lackluster market.

Regardless of which category you're in, there are easy ways to boost your home's value. Making minor changes to a home can add to your asking price, whether you're putting your home on the market this week or waiting for the market to rebound. The following tasks might not take much effort, but they pay dividends.

* Work on the yard. An appealing lawn is still a great way to catch a prospective buyer's eye. When a home boasts a lush lawn and well-manicured trees, it's hard to ignore that For Sale sign out front. If landscaping has proven an Achilles' heel in the past, make an effort to take better care of your property in the months ahead. It doesn't take long for even the most neglected lawn to rebound from disrepair. By the time you feel confident to put that for sale sign out front, you might just be putting it up in a lush lawn no buyer can resist.

* Upgrade appliances. Prospective buyers won't be thrilled if they walk into a home and see outdated appliances. Some might even feel older appliances indicate a homeowner who cared little about appearances and might begin to wonder if there are any additional areas that might have been neglected around the house. Stainless steel appliances in the kitchen and even new fixtures in the bathroom are aesthetically appealing and tend to excite buyers. Homeowners who aren't immediately putting their property up for sale can gradually upgrade their appliances to lessen some of the financial toll such purchases take.

* Replace the carpet. A clean carpet might make a world of difference to a home's inhabitants, but a new carpet will be more appealing to prospective buyers. Choose a neutral-toned carpet that will boast a more universal appeal.

* Paint the home. A fresh coat of paint or new siding is always attractive to prospective buyers. If your home hasn't had a new coat of paint in awhile that might make buyers feel the home is musty or old. Many buyers judge a book by its cover, and sellers want their home's exterior to be as attractive as possible. Homeowners can also paint rooms inside the home to give it a fresh and welcoming feel.

* Clean up around the house. A cluttered house will almost certainly repel buyers. Buyers want a home that's roomy and well kept, but clutter creates the opposite impression. Organize the closets to make them appear more roomy and clean up any areas that have become cluttered - consider temporarily renting a storage unit to house excess stuff from closets.

Real estate fun fact

While many in North America are aware of home price, some might be surprised to learn just how expensive the continent's most expensive homes are. According to Forbes.com, the most expensive home in North America is in the ritzy resort town of Bridgehampton, NY, which is home to a 25,000 square-foot home valued at $75 million.

The property includes 60 acres of waterfront farmland as well as a U.S. Golf Association-rated golf course. To get to the second most expensive home in North America, one need not travel very far from No. 1. The $70 million triplex penthouse at the Pierre in NYC encompasses the hotel's top three floors and boasts double reception rooms and a paneled library.

For those who can't afford the whole thing, the property is also available in two parts, at $11 million and $59 million.

The third most expensive property is on the West Coast. Located in Malibu, Calif., No. 3 on the list is a $65 million gated compound on a private bluff that covers 7 acres of land. Lake Tahoe is home to the fourth most expensive North American property. Valued at $60 million, Sierra Star in Nevada's Incline Village is only 10 years old but includes an 11,000 square-foot main home and two large guesthouses, for a total of 18 bedrooms.

Middlesex East Real Estate

Home From S-8

During daylight hours, natural light spills into the vaulted foyer through sidelights and a transom. Double doors open into the vaulted den to the left of the foyer. Alternately, this makes a good location for a home office. An opening on the foyer's right leads to the main bathroom and two bedrooms. The front bedroom feels larger, due to its vaulted ceiling.

Just past a wide coat closet, the foyer spills out into an expansive vaulted living room. Windows fill much of the rear wall, and a fireplace nestles into the closest rear corner. Sliding glass doors offer easy access to a wide covered patio.

The dining room has a flat ceiling, but is otherwise completely open to the living room. The kitchen, in turn, is open to the dining room, across a raised eating bar which hides the inevitable clutter that accumulates around a cook top. The kitchen is also accessible through a pocket door between the roomy pantry and the bonus room stairs.

An opening on the opposite side of the Sutherlin's living room leads to the well-appointed owners' suite. It boasts a good-sized walk-in closet, and a deluxe bathroom, complete with a double vanity, deep soaking tub, and separately enclosed shower and toilet.

This Week's Sampler:

The Sutherlin sparkles, inside and out

Iconic Craftsman windows sparkle across the front of the Sutherlin. Not surprising, this being an update of the Craftsman-style bungalow. Even the windows near the top of the garage door exhibit that definitive grid.

Other Craftsman details include decorative corbels, tapered supports undergirding slender twin posts, and shake textured siding that fills the gable ends. A king post and struts highlight the vaulted entry, and a small covered porch extends off to the left.
